Hint Government Action On Steel Shortage

BRITISH SHIP PROGRAM IS INCENTIVE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(UP)—President Roosevelt intimated today that the government will take prompt action to obtain steel for its naval building program. Material has been difficult to procure because of the Walsh-Healey act, setting a 40-hour week for large government contractors.

Mr. Roosevelt, speaking at his press conference, said the government must act to obtain a sufficient supply of steel within a few weeks.

British Program Incentive
Action to clear up the steel jam has been spurred by announcement of Great Britain's $750,000,000 naval construction program.

Mr. Roosevelt said that despite the difficulties of operating under the Walsh-Healey act he favored the labor standards established by it and would like to see similar provisions applied to all industry all over the United States.

As the president was making his statement, Sen. David I. Walsh, D. Mass., chairman of the senate naval affairs committee and co-author of the Walsh-Healey act, declared that steel interests were not "a party to an interference or blocking government proposals to purchase steel."

Government efforts to end the difficulties arising from lack of bids from steel suppliers are in charge of Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady. Assistant Secretary of Navy Charles Edison also is working to end the jam and speed the American naval construction program. Edison conferred with Mr. Roosevelt yesterday and said naval shipyards might be forced to close in a few weeks if steel supplies are not received.

Situation Misunderstood
Walsh said he believed there was general misunderstanding concerning the Walsh-Healey situation. He pointed out that the act provided that:

"On a written finding by the head of a government department that the inclusion in a contract of the working hours set forth in the law would seriously impair the conduct of public business, the secretary of that department shall make exceptions in specific cases."

Furthermore, said Walsh, "there is a provision of the bill setting aside the law in cases where national defense is involved."

Public attention has been aroused within the last few days over the failure of the navy department to obtain sufficient bids to cover invitations on 25,000,000 tons of steel needed for naval construction. Steel companies submitted offers on only 7,000,000 tons.

The 40-hour week provisions of the Walsh-Healey act were reported to be the principal factor, since major steel companies are now operating on a 44-hour basis.

MATTSON SUSPECT PRINTS EXAMINED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 19.—(UP)—The California bureau of criminal identification today began a check of its fingerprint records in an effort to determine whether a man found dead of cold and starvation in an empty railroad car was the fugitive killer of 10-year-old Charles Mattson of Tacoma, Wash.

Charles H. Stone, the bureau's fingerprint expert, said a set of prints taken by Federal Agent H. A. Smith at Quincy yesterday arrived here today. The bureau set to work immediately to attempt to establish the identity of the gaunt, bearded stranger, who apparently died in the sidetracked work car at Portola rather than risk recognition in public.

NEW DISPUTES IN GMC PLANTS

DETROIT, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Strikes in three General Motors plants threatened today to disrupt wages and hours negotiations between executives of the corporation and the United Automobile Workers Union.

Leaders of both sides hastened, however, to announce their belief that the new disputes would be settled quickly and that the discussions, involving questions not included in the recent 44 day strike settlement, would continue in a friendly atmosphere.

A sit-down strike involving 2500 workers forced General Motors to close its Chevrolet and Fisher Body company plants at St. Louis, while 250 employees of a body plant at Oshawa, Ont., walked out and announced they would not return until wage demands had been settled.

Homor Martin, youthful president of the union, said the St. Louis sit-downs would not be permitted to remain in the two plants and that the corporation had agreed to suspend operations until the dispute had been settled.

C. E. Wilson, vice president of General Motors and chairman of the corporation's delegation at the joint conference, said the strike apparently resulted from a misunderstanding. He believed it would be settled speedily.

The Oshawa walkout affects only one section of the plant, which employs about 3000, but it was feared that the entire factory would be affected if it is continued.

Harry J. Carmichael, vice president and general manager of the plant, minimized the situation in a statement declaring that about 250 "disgruntled" employees were asking adjustment of wages and working conditions but that there was "no indication" of a strike.

WALLY AND DUKE SET WEDDING DATE

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Frances Clynne, New York society modiste, returned on the S. S. Bremen today with word that the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Simpson will be married May 22 in the English chapel in Vienna.

She said the date was "stated definitely" at a cocktail party in London attended by Lord Brownlow, close friend of the former king.

Prof. Anita Milani, Vatican physician, warned the Pope that he might overtax his strength or catch cold in a walk through the draughty corridors of the Vatican.

BLAST KILLS MARINES ON BATTLESHIP

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Feb. 19.—(UP)—The death of seven United States marines and injury to 10 others from a terrific gun explosion aboard the U. S. S. Wyoming during sham battle maneuvers brought a sweeping investigation today by high naval officials.

Seven of the injured marines lay near death today aboard the navy hospital ship Relief as Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, officially called an inquest for today and a board of inquiry for Saturday.

There were 1300 men aboard the Wyoming yesterday when a shell in a five-inch starboard gun exploded prematurely, sending tons of steel and iron crashing into the gun crew. Four men were killed instantly, two others died in a few minutes and Private Sidney Ensey of Atlantic City, N. J., died early today.

Second Disaster
The disaster was the second in seven months to strike the navy off the San Clemente Island training grounds and the fifth in a year in the Pacific.

Captain C. N. Hinkamp, commander of the Wyoming, showing evidence of the tremendous shock and strain of the tragedy, briefly told of the accident when the ship swung into Los Angeles harbor after a fast trip from the island.

"It was a terrible accident," he said. "One of the five-inch guns, the after gun on the main deck, starboard side, backfired."

The Wyoming had been used as a training ship, stripped of its former 14-inch guns but still carrying its secondary battery of twelve and five-inch guns. It was named principally by 1000 marines from Quantico, Va.

Capt. Edward J. Trumble and his working crew of six gunmen were loading the 40-pound shell in the breech, Private David Williams, with a ramrod in his hand, was directly behind the gun when there was a terrific explosion.

A "powder man" was behind Williams with a 20-pound bag of powder for the charge. By some miraculous fact, the powder did not explode and he staggered to safety with the bag, undoubtedly saving many more lives.

Arm Torn Off
Williams received the full force of the blast and his right arm was nearly decapitated, according to witnesses. Other marines watching the gun loading were bowled over.

The blast blew out parts of the bulkhead around the casemate, a small gun room projecting from the outer edge of the ship alongside the hull. About 20 men were crowded in the small room, no more than 10 feet by 14 feet and seven feet high.

Once a dreadnaught of first caliber, the Wyoming was built in 1912 and had been demilitarized for training ship duties, under provisions of the London naval treaty in 1930. The vessel is 26,000 tons displacement and 562 feet long.

Twelve physicians worked all night in an effort to give relief to the injured men. Most of the seriously injured were unconscious, it was learned.

Vice-Admiral William T. Tarrant, commanding the scouting force of which the Wyoming was a unit, named the naval court to hold the inquest aboard the Wyoming today.

Probe Ordered
The board of inquiry tomorrow will be held aboard the U. S. S. New York, flagship of the training squadron.

All shore liberty for officers and crew of the Wyoming was cancelled.

DEADLOCK ON MADRID FRONT

HENDAYE, French-Spanish Frontier, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Spanish nationalists and loyalists, their ranks thinned by days of fierce attacks and counter-attacks, remained stalemated today on the Madrid front.

Reports from both sides indicated no imminent break in a siege that started November 8. The nationalists, however, were understood to have received reinforcements of 20,000 men from the Malaga front for new attacks.

A strong nationalist defense system along the Jarama river front, where the nationalists desire to cut the vital railroad from Madrid to Valencia, broke a loyalist counter-attack that began at dawn Wednesday.

The nationalists were left in positions which permitted them still to level artillery fire on the Valencia road.

The attack, supported by tanks, broke under a terrific nationalist artillery barrage. Both sides suffered possibly the heaviest losses of any single battle since the siege began.

After hours of battering, Gen. Miaja's attacking forces abandoned their forward movement, leaving two disabled tanks and hundreds of dead on the plains of New Basile along the Jarama river.

Such confusion reigned after nightfall Wednesday that two loyalist munitions trucks were driven into the nationalist lines, the drivers not realizing Gen. Franco's troops had reoccupied their old positions.

An insurgent communique announced that the "internationalists" attack had weakened hour by hour to a point where it was halted.

DEMAND U. S. ACT TO END AIR CRASHES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Demand rose in both houses of congress today for speedy enactment of legislation to tighten air transport regulations in an effort to reduce the number of crashes.

Rep. Henry Ellenbogen, D., Pa., asked the house interstate commerce committee to begin immediate hearings on its proposal that the Interstate Commerce commission take over regulation of air line companies.

Sen. Pat McCarran, D., Nev., author of a similar bill in the senate, sought equally rapid action in that body.

The ICC, under the Ellenbogen bill, would have authority to regulate air transport companies, fix rates, and supervise issuance of their securities.

Safety Provision
It would make regular inspections of aircraft, prescribe minimum standards for safety appliances, and approve safety and navigation facilities at airports before they could be used.

The McCarran bill differs from the Ellenbogen in that it gives the ICC power to fix air mail routes.

Following a conference with McCarran, Ellenbogen said:

"Recent air disasters make it imperative that well equipped agency such as the ICC be charged with the duty to regulate aircraft and fix minimum standards of safety and navigation appliances."

"The ICC has made a success of railroad regulation and I believe it is the best existing agency for the supervision of aircraft and transportation companies."

Transfer Functions
Ellenbogen's bill would transfer the ICC functions now performed by the bureau of air commerce of the department of commerce, which has been under criticism for inefficiency by the senate's Copeland air investigation committee.

Rep. John H. Tolan, D., Calif., spurred by two recent disasters in the San Francisco bay area, was preparing for consideration of a bill to establish a large coast guard air base in that region.

Tolan said the recent crash of an airliner in the bay and the collapse of scaffolding Wednesday which killed ten workers on the Golden Gate bridge, made it imperative to have adequate "rescue facilities."

He asserted that there was only one coast guard air station on the entire Pacific seaboard while the Atlantic coast has six.

MARY ASTOR WAITS RETURN OF MATE

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Soulful-eyed, titian haired Mary Astor awakened today after having spent her wedding night 2,000 miles apart from her newly acquired bridegroom, Manuel Del Campo.

The 31-year-old film actress who played a leading role in the sensational "lavender diary" child custody case last August, and the 25-year-old Cambridge graduate who aspires to a "Theopian career of his own, flabbergasted the movie colony by eloping by plane to Yuma, Ariz., early yesterday morning.

Miss Astor returned to Hollywood where she will shortly play a starring role in "The Prisoner of Zenda," and Del Campo boarded another plane at Mexicali, Mex., and flew to Mexico City immediately after the ceremony, where he will take charge of the settling of his father's estate. His father died of pneumonia Tuesday.

FORECAST PACT ON WAR DEBTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson, D., Ark., told the senate today that he believed "something substantial will be accomplished" toward settlement of war debts within a year. He emphasized he was expressing his personal opinion.

Robinson made the statement during debate on the war debt situation, precipitated by the proposal of Sen. J. Hamilton Lewis, D., Ill., that the United States make no reciprocal trade agreements with nations which have defaulted on debts owed this country.

Previously the senate finance committee had reported favorably a resolution extending for three years President Roosevelt's authority to negotiate reciprocal trade pacts.

Robinson said that in his opinion "there is in progress now a revision of sentiment so that there is a strong likelihood that in the next year something substantial will be accomplished looking toward settlement of the war debts."

Sen. William E. Borah, R., Ida., inquired whether the talk of settlement did not involve a reduction of the debts.

"No proposals have been submitted," Robinson replied. "No plan has been formulated."

BRIDGE DISASTER MOVIE FILMS SHOWN

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Motion pictures of the Golden Gate bridge disaster, showing 12 men hurtling 250 feet into waters of San Francisco bay, were shown in Corner T. B. W. Lealand's tiny jury room today.

A coroner's jury, opening the first formal inquiry into the accident, which claimed the lives of 19 men, watched as Dr. John Mitchell, industrial accident commission physician, flashed on a screen dramatic scenes of the actual tragedy.

Dr. Mitchell happened to be taking pictures on the bridge at the time of the disaster, and when the scaffolding under the bridge began collapsing, he trained his camera on the scene until the victims and debris had disappeared.

HURL ACID, TEAR BOMBS DURING RIOT

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Feb. 19.—(UP)—Sheriff's deputies aided with clubs and tear gas fought with sit-down strikers hurling metal objects and spraying acid from fire extinguishers today for possession of the $1,000,000 Fansteel Metallurgical Corp. plant.

There were approximately 100 of each.

Armed with a writ ordering eviction of the strikers, who have held the plant since Wednesday, Sheriff L. A. Donahill strode up to the plant at 6:30 a. m. and called out:

"Anybody who wants to come out peacefully come out now."

A few indoors popped open and strikers thrust their heads out. "We're standing on our rights," shouted Carl Swanson, secretary of Local No. 44 of the Amalgamated Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, who called the strike for union recognition and collective bargaining.

Sheriff Orders Attack
The sheriff stepped back and ordered the attack.

Two deputies carrying a huge steel bar for a battering ram hurled their weight against the rear door of the plant.

Strikers began breaking out the windows in the second story and throwing missiles.

The door crashed in and the deputies threw in a tear gas bomb. The strikers then began spraying a yellow, foamy liquid which authorities described as "mild acid" from fire hose thrust out the broken windows.

The seven and one-half acre plant, which manufactures electrical parts of automobiles and radio from such valuable metals as tungsten, molybdenum, and tantalum, contains delicate machinery which the strikers had threatened to damage if they were attacked.

After the first exchange, the attackers stepped back and again an officer called:

"Come on out."

"Go to blazes," came a voice from the plant.

Hurl Tear Gas
Deputies and six assisting policemen then began hurling tear gas into the lower story of the plant. The wispy white gas rose into the upper story of the building and curled thickly from hundreds of shattered windows.

With each new explosion of tear gas there was a renewed tinkling of broken glass as strikers smashed window panes.

The workers could be seen inside wiping tears from their eyes but they showed no signs of quitting.

Many of the special deputies who swarmed around the plant swinging blitzy were half-blinded by the gas.

Occasionally a metal object would come from a window and land near the deputies, who would stampede to safer ground.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Schickel suffered severe leg burns when a small tear gas can exploded in his pocket.

Strikers threw small bottles of kerosene, which plant officials valued at $100 each.

Strikers Toss Acid
Bottles of acid were hurled from the plant. One struck a policeman in the back of the neck and he broke the ice on a mud puddle to wash it off.

SOLONS SEEK NEW INSURANCE PLANS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 19.—(UP)—A recommendation to the legislature that the state insurance division be given broader regulatory powers appeared likely today as the Donihue committee temporarily recessed its investigations into California insurance activities.

From Lawrence Roubie, former state insurance examiner, and John L. Flynn, deputy attorney general, the committee heard detailed testimony regarding the operating set-up of the Old Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company of California.

ANTI-UNION LEADER SLUGGED, STABBED

SAGINAW, Mich., Feb. 19.—(UP)—Daniel M. Robbins, 60, maintenance clerk of the Chevrolet foundry and anti-union leader, was beaten with a black-jack, stabbed and spat upon by a mob of 10 men in an empty railroad car last night by two unknown assailants.

His condition was not serious, the foundry physician said. James F. Miller, general manager, said an investigation would be made. Robbins was active in the recent General Motors strike in organizing opposition to union activity.

POPE OBEYS PLEA OF VATICAN DOCTOR

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Pope Pius, overjoyed at the improvement in his condition, was prevented only with difficulty today from attending the Lenten day sermon at the Sistine chapel.

Prof. Anita Milani, Vatican physician, warned the Pope that he might overtax his strength or catch cold in a walk through the draughty corridors of the Vatican.

ACID HURLED BY STRIKERS

The strikers were concentrated in two buildings of the far flung plant. The plant comprises seven buildings, a few miles south of Waukegan.

The company obtained an injunction from Judge Ralph J. Dady yesterday ordering the strikers to evacuate immediately. When the strikers defied Sheriff Doolittle's announcement of the court order the judge issued an eviction writ charging them with contempt of court.

In contesting the company's court action, Attorney Joseph M. Jacobs of Chicago, asserted the Faneel corporation had refused to bargain collectively and employed labor spies. H. N. Keels, company spokesman, charged the strike was secondary, and the real purpose was to damage the company's business.

LIKES CITY

Leonard L. Hurst, new manager for the local Montgomery Ward store, arrived with his family in this city Wednesday, from Bellingham, Wash. He is happy over outlook for business in the entire trade territory.

his first Keedoozie store in Memphis, it was learned today.

Saunders predicted that the Keedoozie, an electrically operated, self-serving grocery, will gross $1,000,000 in Memphis during its first year and that at the end of that time he will be worth $10,000,000.

NEW SANTA ANA STORE MANAGER ENTHUSIASTIC

No more enthusiastic Santa Ana can one find even among the old timers than Leonard L. Hurst, who arrived only Wednesday from Bellingham, Wash., to take his new post as manager of the local Montgomery Ward store at the corner of Fourth and Main streets. Accompanying him were Mrs. Hurst and their daughter, Virginia Lee.

Just three years ago Mr. Hurst changed to be in Santa Ana. The local Ward store, the town and the people made such a pleasant impression on him that he made up his mind at that time to establish himself here and manage the Ward store at the first opportunity. Since that time he sees great changes in the city and made the observation that "apparently there is three times as much activity in business as there was three years ago."

His desire to live here was realized yesterday afternoon when he and Mrs. Hurst found a home at 2203 North Ross street where Mrs. Hurst, who has a flair for gardening may indulge her hobby. Virginia Lee, whose hobby is tennis, will enter the high school as a junior.

A graduate of the University of Kansas where he was a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, Mr. Hurst was active in athletics playing on the varsity football team for four years. Since college he has transferred his attention to business and civic affairs and has been a member of the Rotary club in four different cities. He has taken part in many chamber of commerce activities and is eager, as is his company, to play any part in community betterment for he believes "any effort to make a town better reflects in the business of that town."

During the four years that Mr. Hurst has been associated with the Ward company he has traveled from one end of the Pacific coast to the other but no place appealed to him as much as Santa Ana. "I believe," he said, "that the future possibilities of business in Santa Ana are exceptional and almost unlimited."

celled pending investigation of the explosion.

The revised list of dead and injured released by the navy was as follows:

Dead: Captain Edward John Trumble, Alexandria, Va.
John Bauer, Cincinnati, Ohio.
Sidney Whitney Ensley, Atlantic City, N. J.
Albert Enos, Cambridge, Mass.
Joseph W. Bozynski, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Clinton Lyrl Walker, Boykin, N. C.

Slightly injured: William Henry Lentz, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Norman John Schlupe, Chicago Ill.
Ernest N. McManus, Monroe, N. C.

Naval officers refused to discuss the probable cause of the blast but a similar disaster occurred 12 years ago aboard the U.S.S. Mississippi when 48 officers and men were killed. This explosion was said to have been caused by burning particles from a previous discharge igniting the powder from a fresh shell being inserted in the breach.

SEAMEN IN COURT TO BLOCK MEASURE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Pacific coast seamen threw a wall of injunctions around U. S. Shipping Commissioners in western ports today to restrain enforcement of the disputed discharge book provision of the Copeland Safety-at-Sea Act.

The wall was completed with granting of temporary restraining orders in federal courts having jurisdiction over the ports of Portland and Seattle.

The seamen contend the books would enable shipmasters and employers to "black list" them or discriminate against them. More than 15,000 union maritime workers have pledged that they would not accept the books.

AMELIA EARHART'S PLANE HEADS WEST
CLEVELAND, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Amelia Earhart, piloting her Lockheed "flying laboratory," took off from Municipal airport at 4:18 a. m. (PST), today on the second leg of her journey to Burbank, Calif., where she will prepare for a round the world flight next month.

Her immediate destination was unannounced, but airport officials said her next stop probably would be St. Louis.

DREAM OF STORE COMES TRUE

Pictured below is the artistically arranged store front of the new Children's Bootery at 407 North Broadway. With its opening tomorrow, the dream of Gertrude Bradford, owner and manager of the shop, is materialized. She will be assisted in the new shop by her daughter, Miss Jacqueline Bradford. Both are well known in Santa Ana.

Orange Man Is New Salesman At Newcomb's

Carl R. Stuckey, former Orange business man has recently joined the sales force of Newcomb's in their new store at 111 West Fourth street, Santa Ana.

Stuckey, who resides in Orange, came there from Kansas 20 years ago and was introduced into the shoe business five years prior to his coming west. He opened his own shoe store on East Chapman avenue, Orange, 19 years ago, and conducted a prosperous business.

He was a member of the Rotary club for 12 years and served as its secretary for a period of five years. He closed his store in April, 1935.

Since that time he has been very closely connected with the shoe business and with his new connection at Newcomb's he personally invites all of his many friends and customers to visit him in the new store.

'BUCK' JONES IS FREED OF TRIAL

Jones the vile name, according to Jones.

Both criminal complaints were dropped today. The assault charge was dismissed in justice court and Menton announced that, after an investigation of the case, he would proceed no further with the manslaughter charge, believing that the death of Cleary had been excusable homicide, as covered by section 95, subdivision 2 of the penal code, which classifies as excusable homicide any death "when committed by accident or misfortune in the heat of passion, or with any sudden provocation, or upon sudden combat, when no undue advantage is taken, or any dangerous weapon used, and when the killing is not done in a cruel or unusual manner."

Attorney L. W. Blodgett defended Jones in the case.

NEW CHILDREN'S BOOTERY OPENS IN THIS CITY

With the opening of the Children's Bootery, 407 North Broadway, Santa Ana will have one of the most distinctive children's shops in Southern California.

Gertrude Bradford, owner and manager of the shop, has had years of experience in the shoe business and for the past ten years has specialized in the correct fitting of children's shoes. She will be assisted by her daughter, Miss Jacqueline Bradford. In opening her shop, Mrs. Bradford is realizing a life-long ambition and at the same time is answering a definite need in Santa Ana. The store is the only specialty shop of its kind in the county and ranks in equipment, personnel and appointments with any such shop in California. Her wide experience in the business and deep interest in the subject has led Mrs. Bradford to specialize in the hard-to-fit foot. She has a complete line of narrow as well as wide widths and the Pro-tek-tiv shoes, featured in the shop, are priced to suit any budget.

Decorations of this unique store will delight any youngster or older as well. Large pastel hand-painted murals designed by the Gaston brothers immediately attract and hold youthful interest.

The popular Mother Goose characters portrayed afford amusement to the otherwise tiresome ordeal of having small feet fitted. Striking contrast is offered in the dark blue leather-covered modernistic chairs, of correct height for different ages, while attractive show-cases reflect the bright colors of the murals.

The whole interior effect is designed to please and attract a child and, according to Mrs. Bradford, mothers may shop here with perfect confidence that their children will be perfectly fitted.

TOWNSEND CLUBS

Club No. 9 will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Edison school. Speaking and music will comprise the program.

Exclusive of mechanical traps and clay pigeons, Americans spend $75,000,000 annually for sporting arms and ammunition.

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is an irrefutable fact that Christ's life continued after "death" and still continues. It is your chief warrant for the conviction that you shall live and loves all of you. He promised that you shall be like Him and with Him. The realization that the fundamental nature of moral life demands a fulfillment unobtainable in this life. There must be a future life. Convictions regarding the great facts of life are not created by arguments yet you are strengthened and encouraged as you endeavor to "think things through." There is no intelligent refutation of your instinct for immortality. Your dear one lives and you shall be together again.

STANFIELD—In Santa Ana, February 18, Nixon W. Stanfield, aged 82 years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clara A. Stanfield, two daughters, Mrs. Jessie Craig, of 1325 Durant street, at whose home he passed away, Mrs. Millicent Ray of Whittier and two sons, Fred Stanfield of Whittier and Ralph W. Stanfield of Corona. Services will be held Saturday, February 20, at 10 a. m. from the chapel of the Winbigler Mortuary, 609 N. Main St., with the Rev. George A. Warner, minister, pastor of the First Methodist church officiating followed by interment in Downey, California.

NOWOTNY—February 17, 1937, Alvin E. Nowotny, aged 48 years, of 1605 West Sixth street. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ella R. Nowotny, two sons, Raymond and Wilbur Nowotny, three brothers, Harry Nowotny, of New Braunfels, Texas; Oscar, of Hancock, Texas; and Edward Nowotny, of Goodwin, Texas; two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Hauffler, of Asher, Texas; and Mrs. Hilda Conring, of New Braunfels, Texas; a nephew, Frank Tausch, of Anaheim. Funeral services are to be held from the Winbigler Mortuary chapel, 609 North Main street, tomorrow, Saturday, February 20, at 10 a. m. The Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church officiating. Interment in Fairhaven cemetery, under the auspices of Santa Ana Masonic Lodge No. 241.

WILSON—Private funeral services for Edith Ann Wilson, who passed away at her home, 837 Riverside street, February 17, 1937, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Brown and Wagner Funeral home, 115 West Seventeenth street. Interment in Fairhaven cemetery. Please omit flowers.

ZUEHLKE—Funeral services are to be held at the Gilgley funeral chapel, Orange, tomorrow at 10 a. m. for Rudolph A. Zuehlke, 83, a resident of California for 20 years, who passed away yesterday at a local hospital. He had lived in Orange two years, residing at the Sunshine apartments. Services are to be conducted by the Rev. A. C. Bode, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran church, Orange, and interment made in St. John's cemetery. Survivors are: a son, Albert, of Saginaw, Wis.; one daughter, Mrs. Olga Oehrl, of Milwaukee, Wis.; four grandchildren and one great grandchild; two brothers and four sisters living in the east, and one sister, Mrs. William Fries living in Orange; also a niece, Mrs. William J. ## BENCH CHARGES OPEN JAIL FOR 14 IN SANTA ANA

Like the leaves in autumn, bench warrants, issued by City Judge J. G. Mitchell, continued to fall upon numerous Santa Anans tonight. "blown" in their direction by Santa Ana police in radio patrol cars.

Yesterday, half a dozen men were sent to jail after being served with bench warrants, charging them with failure to pay off fines still owing. Today, eight more men brushed away bench warrants served upon them by Officers Harry Pink, Charles Neer, Ed Lentz and Ralph Pantuso, by agreeing to go to jail, to pay remainder of fines owing, by paying that remainder, or by agreeing to "work it out."

Moses Perez, 19, 1828 West Third, was sent to jail for 10 days; David Flores, 22, 1807 West Pine, arrested when he voluntarily appeared at city hall, agreed to work out a $13 fine; Ralph Hickey, 35, Mason hotel, agreed to work out a $15 fine; Roy McGee, 53, 1702 West Fifth, paid $7.35 in cash and was sent on his way, rejoicing.

Joe Sanchez, 37, 1219 West Second, agreed to work out a $10 fine; Romero Rodriguez, 26, 606 North Daisy, said he would work out a $5 fine; Salvador Solis, Delhi, wanted to work out his $6 fine, and Santiago Martinez, 24, 1865 West Eighth, promised to pay the remainder he owes, $7.50, Saturday night.

George Robertson, senior engineering student at the University of Southern California and resident of Santa Ana at 332 East Two, has just been awarded a two-year scholarship to the General Electric company's training school at Schenectady, N. Y.

Qualifying along with Trevor Gardener from a group of 25 seniors applying for the coveted scholarship, Robertson will leave for training school after his graduation in June, according to Dean Philip S. Biegler of the U. S. C. college of engineering.

Robertson, former student body president and engineering major at Santa Ana Junior college, is a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and of Eta Kappa Nu, honorary engineering fraternity at U. S. C. A former resident of Wichita, Kans., he is a graduate of East High school in that city.

Funeral services for Mrs. Harriet Louise Rutter, mother of Mrs. Harold Kent Pollock, of 1113 West Fifth street, were held at 10 a. m. yesterday at the Wagner and Brown funeral home.

Mrs. Rutter was 55 years old and had made her home with her son-in-law and daughter for more than six years. She had suffered a long illness.

The Rev. Robert B. McAuley, of the First Presbyterian church of Orange, was in charge of the services. Mrs. Carl Postler sang.

Mrs. Rutter was a pioneer of California, having arrived in San Diego in 1885, with her husband, Wallace Rutter, and their small daughter. She could remember when there were no paved streets in San Diego, and when everyone used horses and buggies.

Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery in San Diego, where her husband was buried 50 years ago.

Besides the daughter, she is survived by three granddaughters, Mrs. Dorothy Fage, of San Francisco; Mrs. Marjorie R. Davidson, of Tulare; and Mrs. F. C. Feldner, of Orange. There also are six great grandchildren and other relatives in the East.

Four speeders were fined by City Judge J. G. Mitchell in city court yesterday, records show. E. A. Heavener, Irvine, one of the group, was fined $8 and for jumping boulevard stop, $2.

He agreed to work out both fines. Mrs. Mary Braddock, Anaheim, was fined $5; V. M. Allen, El Monte, $6; and Sam Terry, Huntington Beach, $6, for speeding. A youthful Santa Ana boy was certified to juvenile court on a speeding charge. George Swearingen was fined $2 for boulevard stop jumping; Earl Mathison and Charles Clemons, charged with illegal parking, were fined $1 each.

COUNTY'S WALNUT INDUSTRY SLUMPS FROM $4,000,000 TO LESS THAN $1,000,000

By GEORGE HART
Orange county's walnut industry has dwindled from a $4,000,000 income to less than a million within the last ten years, as "the law of diminishing returns" has affected the industry, according to a crop report issued today by County Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs.

In 1925 and 1927 the walnut receipts were from $3,500,000 to $4,000,000, the peak of the county's walnut history. The 1936 production yielded $880,785, Tubbs reports.

Tubbs listed three factors as responsible, namely:

1—Extensive plantings in other parts of the state have increased the total supply to the point where the law of diminishing returns has had its effect.

2—Much of Orange county's early plantings were of the lesser improved varieties, being largely hardshell seedlings which could not compete in quality with newer plantings here and elsewhere.

3—In many cases the original walnut plantings were on very good soil and in locations which were highly favorable to the production of citrus, which crop, during the early part of the last decade, was showing a greater return per acre than walnuts. This caused growers to replace walnut orchards with orange groves.

Today's report on the walnut industry is the second of a series of crop reports issued by Tubbs this year. Instead of following the previous practice of issuing one annual crop report, covering all crops, Tubbs this year is treating each industry separately, in a series of reports.

His reports, he explains, are intended to show the trend in planting, production and income, as well as to announce the final figures for 1936.

Production Analyzed
His report states:

"The walnut industry is another of Orange county's orchard crops which early gained prominence both as to amount of plantings, production and total income. In fact, in 1915, which is the earliest record in the files of the agricultural commissioner's office, the acreage was shown as approximately 12,000 bearing and slightly under 2000 non-bearing, with a production slightly exceeding the production of 1936.

"By 1926 our records show 13,737 acres in bearing and 524 acres non-bearing. The production that year was extremely low for the acreage, the total shown by the annual crop report being only slightly over four million pounds, although the income was almost one million dollars.

"Production has been quite variable, ranging from slightly less than 900 pounds per acre in 1930, to approximately one ton per acre in 1927 and 1932, with the maximum production per acre occurring in 1935, during which season the county average was slightly under 2300 pounds. In 1925 and 1927 gross incomes were between three and a half, and four million dollars. In 1929 the income was approximately two and a half million dollars. Since that date the receipts were below the million-dollar mark in 1921 and 1936, and from one to one and three quarter million during the remaining years. The 1936 production of 7,333,100 pounds from 6415 acres will return $880,785.

Cites Three Factors
"Three factors have contributed largely to the reduction of walnut acreage in this area. . . . Thus, our walnut industry has been reduced to approximately half its size during the preceding decade.

"During recent years walnut care has been directed toward the production of good quality walnuts. State standardization requirements are still more exacting requirements of the industry itself in grading walnuts have been the result of consumer demand for high quality.

"Some 25 years ago, the coding moth began to show a distinct preference for the walnut as a host. The infestation has spread and increased to the extent that annual treatment is generally considered to repay the grower financially. It is interesting to note that in 1930 less than 30 per cent of the groves were treated for coding moth, whereas during 1932-4-5-6, from 73 to 81 per cent were treated for this pest with the maximum percentage during the last year. Other treatment for blight and aphid, and care in harvesting methods have greatly improved the quality of walnuts being offered to the consumer."

TUSTIN MAN GETS JAIL FOR WEAVING

If Percy F. Rice, 55, inventor of Tustin, had only invented his own automobile battery instead of a new method of weaving, he wouldn't have been in jail today.

Shortly after Rice stopped at a local shop last night, to obtain a remedy for the worn-out battery of his car, Officers Charles Neer and Chet Gross arrested him at Tenth and Bush streets. They charged him with "drunk driving." They reported he was "weaving his car" about the street.

PASADENA, (UP)—Pacifists have different ideas as to the best ways of attaining their ideals. Samuel Archer willed his collection of firearms, bowie knives and swords to his daughters "that they might help future generations of pacifists who will probably have to fight like the very mischief for whatever measure of peace they may enjoy."

OSWALD'S TO OPEN IN FOURTH STREET MARKET TOMORROW

Oswald's quality meats, known throughout Southern California for fine flavor, will again be available to Santa Ana housewives when Oswald's reopen their meat department tomorrow in the Fourth Street Market, 307 East Fourth street.

The new department is in charge of W. E. Oliver, who is well known in the meat trade in Los Angeles and this vicinity, having formerly been identified with the Retail Meat Dealers' association of Los Angeles.

Oliver is an expert meat cutter and while with this association demonstrated his art before many conventions and meetings of this retail meat dealer's group.

Oliver will be assisted by Jim Newman, who has been serving Santa Ana meat buyers for many years, having been in the retail meat department of two of the larger meat markets in Santa Ana for several years.

In addition to reopening this meat department Oswald's have remodeled, restocked and rearranged the grocery department in order to serve their customers in a more efficient and economical manner. Commenting upon this remodeling "Pat" Jordan, manager of grocery department says: "We certainly appreciate the splendid patronage that this community has extended the Fourth Street market since its opening in Santa Ana six years ago. And I feel that with our new store arrangement patrons will like trading at this market still better. Tomorrow we have planned a remodeling sale to show the public what we have to offer. The meat, fruit and vegetable as well as the grocery department has joined in this event and all sections are featuring special food values for this occasion."

The present American patent system is more than 100 years old.

Near the gate to the cemetery of Gettysburg is a signboard which stood throughout the entire historic battle. The sign reads: "All persons found using firearms in these grounds will be prosecuted with the utmost rigor of the law."

FORMER LOCAL GIRL TELLS OF HER MOVIE ROLE

By GERIE GRIFFITH

Word was received here today that Ruth Kilbourne, former Santa Ana Junior college student, recently worked as a motion picture extra in a picture which has not yet been released. The setting was laid at the Santa Anita race track.

Miss Kilbourne is the granddaughter of Mrs. H. L. Mattson of 402 South Broadway of this city. In a letter, she described her experiences as very different from any former occupation, and entirely interesting. For her part, that of one among a group of supposed race fans, an entire day was consumed for the making of one scene.

This was, of course, the exciting finish of a neckfinch of a neck and neck race. However the "actors" as Ruth described, had to get excited and worked up with nothing to look at but a "galloping" camera-car—with not a horse in sight.

The irony of the affair was disclosed by the fact that the group which Ruth was a part of, were to represent a summer crowd at the races. But the skies overhead were clouded with smudge smoke, and the surrounding flowers were frozen. But at the same time, the actors obeyed orders and instructions, and warmed their expressions to time with the created atmosphere.

One of the nicest parts about the affair, outside of the wages, was the chicken dinner served to all those who participated.

For one scene which will probably show for less than five minutes on the screen, it took an entire day's work, which included at least 14 retakes.

Miss Kilbourne has always been an ardent movie fan, but after her own connection with this cinematic world she stated, "I know less now about extra work than before I participated, but it was grand fun."

In Switzerland, Swiss cheese is generally marketed in large, bulging wheels of 100 to 200 pounds.

200 SANTA ANA WOMEN IN ROLE OF HOME MAKER

Approximately 200 women in Santa Ana held the dual role of home maker and bread winner in 1936, according to a report to The Register today from the women's bureau of the department of labor in Washington, D. C.

The report of the women's bureau is based on the 1930 census and shows that well over a third of the gainfully occupied women in the United States in 1936 had the responsibility of earning a living as well as making a home for the families.

Census figures used by the labor department as the basis for its study show that in 1930 there were 554 women wage earners in Santa Ana, a third of whom were both wage earners and breadwinners in 1936, according to the women's bureau.

Based on figures obtained by the women's bureau study, it is estimated that 50 of the Santa Ana women who were both wage earners and home makers were in families having no man at the head, while the remainder were required to work to supplement the earnings of the male members of the family. Almost two-thirds of the employed home makers were at work in industry, a tenth were professional women, while others were engaged in miscellaneous capacities.

J. C. SOPHOMORES TO HOLD ELECTION

Petitions for sophomore officers at Santa Ana Junior college were ready for circulation among students today. Officers to be voted upon for the second semester are president, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

Those who have served as officers for the first semester were Vernon Koepsel, president; John Ramirez, vice president; Mary Elizabeth Heaney, secretary; Betty Lee, treasurer.

Petitions must be presented Wednesday, Feb. 24, in order for the candidates' names to be placed on the ballot.

Picnics and Reunions

The semi-annual picnic and reunion of "Hoosiers" from Indiana, will be held Sunday, February 28, at Sycamore park, (Ave. 46 and North Figueroa, formerly Pasadena avenue) under the auspices of the Indiana State society. Herbert A. Conger, president, to which all "Hoosiers" and friends are cordially invited.

The Brookings county, S. D., annual picnic will be held in Bixby park, Long Beach, Sunday, February 21. All former Brookings county people are invited. Coffee, sugar and cream will be furnished. Come and bring your friends.

DEMOLAYS DANCE 14 TRIPS AROUND WORLD IN ONE YEAR

Something new in the way of statistics was turned out today by George Wheeler, a DeMolay Advisor in charge of the regular Friday night DeMolay-Job's Daughters dances at Santa Ana Veterans' Memorial hall, which affairs, incidentally, are becoming the pattern for similar gatherings throughout the entire United States.

Wheeler sat down and whittled off the best part of six pencils to figure out that 29,075 boys and girls, between the ages of 15 and 21 years, spent 101,000 hours dancing a total of 348,000 miles last year at these dances. This, he computed, is equal to fourteen trips around the world at the equator.

Each dancer tripped the light or heavy fantastic, as the case might have been, for a total of 12 miles on a single night, the whirling being at the rate of four miles per hour.

Assuming that it were necessary to move all those dancers out of town within 24 hours, it would take 166 trains moving at the rate of one each eight and three-fourths minutes to do the job. A train would shuttle 778 round trips between here and New York to use up all the hours of dancing the young people did on the floor of the hall.

If these dancers stood side-by-side, they would spread out seven miles, or from Santa Ana to Anaheim. If laid end-to-end, they'd reach 29 miles, or almost to Los Angeles.

The DeMolay advisors dance committee, including Plummer Bruns, Courtney Chandler, George Redfield, Ed Farmer and Wheeler, and the DeMolay "Dad," Dr. Roy S. Horton, spent a total of 1274 hours at the dances last year, and the Advisory Council spent 2752 hours, equal to 344 eight-hour days, doing their jobs, the statistics show. The Job's Daughters had as their advisors at the dances Mrs. Winnie Dean, William Dean and Frank Sawyer.

KEN Murray SAYS:

CHICAGO, February 19.—Politics makes strange bedfellows too, as evidenced by the number of staunch Democrats who are joining up with the Republicans to oppose the President's plan of Supreme Court reform.... Apparently Mr. Roosevelt is bent on having so many Justices that if they were laid end to end, they would reach a favorable decision.

It's easy to understand why the present occupants are so hard to dislodge.... The Supreme Court bench isn't made out of slippery elm like the political platform. Naturally, F. D. R. wishes the Court could be run like a WPA project. But, instead of shovels, those old boys will persist in leaning on the Constitution. Many people could never figure just how to play that New Deal game successfully, but now it all comes out... You make up your own rules as you go along.

DEBATE TEAMS AT J. C. IN PRACTICE

Members of the Santa Ana Junior college negative and affirmative debate teams held a practice debate with Riverside Junior college's debate team yesterday afternoon.

The question was "Resolved: That Congress should be empowered to fix minimum wages and maximum hours for industry." It is being debated by Jaycees in the Southern California Junior College association which includes Santa Ana, Riverside, Pomona, Fullerton, Chaffey, Citrus and San Bernardino.

Riverside's team consisted of Al Lewis and Elmer Lewis, who debated both the negative and affirmative sides of the case. Santa Ana's negative side was composed of Anne Pellegrini, and Gordon Bishop, while the affirmative teams consisted of Franklin Davis and Al Pickhardt.

Y. M. RALLY ON HANDBALL TO BE HELD TUESDAY

Four main points relating to the manner in which handball is played enthusiastically at the Santa Ana Y.M.C.A. in regular session of various teams, will be discussed at a dinner meeting to be held at 6:15 p.m. next Tuesday at the institution.

Ralph C. Smedley, general secretary of the Y.M., is asking this question of all young and old men in this city and Orange county: Are you interested in handball? "And if you are," says Smedley immediately thereafter, "we want you to attend this dinner."

He referred to present and planned activities of the new handball committee, which recently was appointed by President D. Glenn Tidball, who has outlined the points for the handballers to consider.

Tidball's committee is composed of the following:

G. E. Raitt, N. T. Vandermast, W. L. Hall, Ralph E. Watson and Crawford Nalle.

The four points to be brought up Tuesday evening will be:

"1. A tournament for all who like competition. We suggest a 'Challenge Ladder.'"

"2. A round robin tournament of singles to be started May 1, to be followed by doubles."

"3. Adoption of rules for play which will make it possible for more men to get into the game."

"4. The possibility of getting more handball courts to provide for more players."

WEATHER GOES ON STRANGEST WINTER SPREE

By FRED O. BAILEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The weather this year already has broken more records than in any similar length of time in the history of the U. S. Weather Bureau, according to J. B. Kincer, chief forecaster.

January was a record-breaking month for moisture, heat, cold drought, Kincer said. It was a month of extreme contrasts. Floods inundated parts of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys, while the northwestern plains states suffered from drought.

"With this as a starter, it is hard to tell what to expect for the remainder of the year," Kincer said. "Beneficial moisture has fallen over large sections of the 1936 drought belt, but others still are abnormally dry."

Fruit Crops Suffer

Fruit crops have suffered from too much warmth in Florida and too much cold in California. Unusually warm weather in the southeastern states caused many fruit trees to bloom in January. Freezes not known for many years caused heavy damage to California fruit and vegetables.

In the Ohio valley 60,000,000,000 tons of water, enough to cover the entire area to a depth of more than 16 inches, fell during the first three weeks of January, Kincer estimated. This was half the normal rainfall for the year and an all-time record for a like period.

The flood caused official attention to center on two related problems—flood control and soil conservation. H. H. Bennett, chief of the soil conservation service, estimated 200,000,000 tons of top soil were carried away by the flood in the Ohio drainage basin.

Bennett said that on cultivated land of average slope, 85 per cent of January rainfall ran off. On grass land only 25 per cent of the water ran off. The 127,000,000-acre Ohio drainage basin, once 88 per cent forest, now is only 37 per cent forested.

Huge Loss of Soil
Bennett estimated approximately 65 per cent of the area is moderately eroded. Four per cent, or more than 5,000,000 acres, is severely eroded, and only 23 per cent is not eroded, he said. Loss of top soil during the January floods was as high as 10 tons to the acre on many farms not covered by the water.

Arguing the benefits of terracing, Bennett said a department of agriculture near Hamilton, O., indicated that contour cultivation, strip cropping, and farm check dams effectively controlled erosion and reduced the amount of runoff water by 75 per cent.

By widespread application and combination of proper land management and of upstream and downstream engineering work, we can confidently expect not only to reduce substantially the volume and the velocity of run-off water from the land, but to control the waters more effectively after they have accumulated in the stream channels," Bennett said.

The average speed of women in summer is 29.8 miles an hour, and of men 29.2; in winter, women 41.9, and men 43 miles an hour.

Maple Poster Bed and Chest of Drawers. These should sell for $27.50, but they didn't. Bet someone will grab them at just half..... $13.75 price.....

Occasional Chairs. We thought these chairs a good buy. They should sell for $6.95 like hot cakes—some of them did but some didn't. The covers are terrible colors, but the chairs are comfortable. They'll go at..... $3.95

Bathroom Heaters. These are regular $4.95 bath heaters, but since the cold weather is over it looks as if we're going to be stuck. However, let's see what happens..... $2.95 now.....

Bunk Beds are always good, but this outfit and the chest to match just won't sell. It ought to — who wants the bed at..... $11.50? Chest at.....$9.75?

Odd new Ivory Chests of Drawers; turned leg decorated classy chests. They didn't sell at what we thought was cheap ($13.75). Who'll take 'em now at..... $8.75? only.....

It's neither bride time nor Christmas time. We have one nice walnut cedar chest left. It was $25.00. Someone gets a buy at..... $15.75 only..... (Almost worth getting married to get a bargain like this!)

WE SHARPENED THE AXE ON THESE ITEMS

Some of you folks who sit up and poke sparks back into the fireplace can now relax — all the fire screens..... $2.95 go at.....

We didn't realize how hideous some shades of green can be until we saw this breakfast set. No one would want it now, but it's new and can be refinished without any trouble. We'll make it worth your while. The 6-piece set..... $8.95

A good Hotpoint Electric All-Porcelain range with clock control. Taken in exchange. Clean as..... $29.50 new.....

One real high grade Twin Bed Studio Couch, all O.K. but the color in the upholstery is a terrible blue. Looked O.K. when we bought it but it has got kind of monotonous; was $42.50 — who..... $22.75 wants it at.....

In selling Cataract Washers we've taken in exchange 5 used ones: 1 Apex, 1 Whirlpool, 1 Horton, 1 ABC and 1 Thor. Don't be late—choice..... $12.50

A real high grade well-built Livingroom Suite; cost us $89.00. We've enjoyed its company for almost a year now. Look it over. Only..... $49.50

Did you ever hear of a 4-piece Bedroom Suite, large size, modern, full length mirrors, decorated, full size bed, vanity, chest and upholstered bench—not a thing in the world wrong with it..... $39.75

A good coil spring for a full size bed. We took it in exchange and it's just an odd number. It goes..... $3.98 at.....

One 6-ft. Frigidaire Electric; makes a little noise but freezes O.K. Set it on the porch and it will be better than buying..... $29.50 ice.....

Do you know that we have about 2 dozen floor and reflector lamps that are being sold at 1/2 price? No room here to sing their merits (or lack of them) but give them a glance anyway..... $27.75

No matter how careful we are in warehouse and shipping room sometimes mattresses are torn. This one was. A regular $22.50 Inco innerspring mattress, all mended, and the price cut..... $8.95 to.....

Some way we've accumulated 5 extra walnut vanity dressers. Nothing to match and we don't need a lot of explaining to sell 'em at..... $9.75 (each).....

Coal and Gas Combination Ranges are in our hair. We've got 4 good ones and they are taking up too much room A-1 shape..... $25.00 Choice.....

Did you ever see a walnut frame mirror, 8 feet high? Yep, we've got one — a real antique, but we've had it long enough. The glass alone ought to be worth the price we ask..... $27.75 Only.....

Did you ever see a real fine grade of mattress in a red and green striped tick? Well, it simply looks awful, but the construction is good and it's a guaranteed Inco innerspring. It should have sold for $24.50. Someone who shuts his eyes while he sleeps won't mind the color..... $9.75 at....

A 7-cu. ft. O'Keefe & Merritt Electric Refrigerator. Looks O.K., runs O.K., probably is O.K. Worth a gamble at..... $34.50

A 7-cu. ft. O'Keefe & Merritt Can't figure out why these don't move. May be they were too much at $24.50, but someone will take..... $13.75 them at.....

A fairly good Wedgewood Gas Range taken in trade; needs cleaning up, but it is cheap enough..... $3.95 at.....

EXPERTS FAIL TO AGREE ON CROP FIGURES

BY FRED O. BAILEY

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—"How much should we produce in future years?" a group of farmers and agricultural economists called together by the bureau of agricultural economics, Black called together commodity specialists and economists in the bureau of agricultural economics who were experts on soil conservation, on demand for farm products, foreign trade, and other subjects. He found each of the groups used different yardstick and got a different answer to the question. Black tells about it in an agricultural department report.

Farm economists, using the yardstick of farm income and the AA goal of 1910-14 parity between farm income and non-farm income per capita, said farmers could reduce harvested crop acreage by as much as 45,000,000 acres, or 15 percent of the 1928-32 average of 285,000,000 acres.

Cut Held Too Drastic
"It is extremely doubtful that it could bring farmers parity income for a short time. High prices which could result from such a reduction might cause consumers to reduce their purchasing of farm products. And in the long run farmers might be worse off than before."

Commodity specialists, using domestic consumption as a yardstick, figured that between 1920 and 1929 the nation used slightly more than two acres per person of food and fiber.

When your vital organs fail to perform their work correctly—your kidneys and kidneys can't properly filter off that waste material—before you realize it—you're growing deviously fat!

Take one half teaspoonful of KRUSCHEN SALT in a glass of hot water every morning and out go the extra pounds of fat! The Kruschen Way has given many a fat person a joyous surprise. Get a 4-oz. jar of KRUSCHEN SALT from any leading drugstore where in America. (Lasts 4 weeks). Note—Many people find that the diet change necessary while using Kruschen regularly is TO EAT LESS.

Taking the average population of the country as 130,000,000 during the next few years, they estimated the nation needed 265,000,000 acres to feed and clothe the people, plus 40,000,000 acres to feed horses and mules.

Thus, commodity experts figured 205,000,000 acres for domestic consumption. This would call for a reduction of 60,000,000 acres from the 1928-32 average.

Foreign Trade Rise Seen
But, foreign trade experts argued, the nation must add enough acreage to supply an export market. These specialists predicted a return of foreign trade to the 1930-34 level and estimated the country will need an added 40,000,000 to 45,000,000 acres above domestic needs for export.

Land Less Fertile
About 50,000,000 acres have been destroyed for tillage. Heavy cropping has sapped the fertility of much more of the farm acreage, soil experts said. Plainly, they said, the fertility of the land has been decreasing.

Altogether, they said, a shift of from 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 acres of soil-depleting crops to soil-conserving crops seems desirable, if soil conservation is the only yardstick. A shift of 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 acres would be possible, they estimated.

Summing up these four answers, Black said:

"Thus, measuring future farm production by these yardsticks, we need to reduce our acreage of harvested crops somewhere between a maximum of 50,000,000 acres and a minimum of 15,000,000 acres below the 1928-32 average. Variations in domestic and consumer demand would affect the adjustment needed in any given year."

Britain Guards Bomber's Secret
LONDON, (UP)—Behind an electrically operated door in a closely guarded workshop at the Bristol Aeroplane Company's huge plant at Filton, the world's fastest bomber is being built.

The performance of the super-speed bomber, which, it is claimed, will give Britain supremacy in the air in the event of war, is known only to an inner circle at the Air Ministry. The comparatively slow-moving bomber, which is so easily attacked by high-speed fighters and which has been a serious problem out because of the speed of the new machine, it is believed.

The French language is thought to have the largest slang vocabulary in the world, with English a close second.

Wyoming Winter Fish Season Open

CHEYENNE, Wyo., (UP)—Wyoming's ling fishing season, one of the most unusual and popular of the state's winter sports, is under way on the lakes of the Fremont county area.

Hundreds of sportsmen are converging on that area in their annual expedition to angle for ling, the only native fish not classified as a game fish. The seasons on all other types of fish are closed in the state until April 1.

To catch the fish, which often weigh 20 pounds, fishermen must dig holes through the ice on the lakes and do their angling at night since few catches are ever made during the daylight hours. Fishermen have found that ling are attracted only by live minnows, which are used on weighted lines and allowed to sink deep.

The ling is a long, slender fish without scales. The flesh is white and considered by many persons to be a more tasty dish than trout.

MOUSE KILLS SNAKE
HOWE, Ind. (UP)—H. O. Trygg, who has been experimenting with feeding a large gartersnake, left a field mouse in the pen for the snake's supper. Morning found the snake dead and the mouse blinking nonchalantly.

ARMSTRONG HOME SCENE OF PARTY

ORANGE, Feb. 18. — Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Armstrong and Margery Armstrong entertained members of the Fellowship and of the Trinity Episcopal church choir at the Armstrong home, recently. Decorations were carried out in red hearts and games were played. Cakes and valentine cookies were a part of a delectable refreshment course.

Those present were Walter Bandack, Miss Ethel Arrowsmith, Bob Arrowsmith, Ethel Armstrong, Bob Cruzen, Rochelle Soffley, Joan Soffley, Richard Gregg, Mrs. Cora Gregg, Miss Nadine Connley, Charles Armstrong, Miss Mildred Nohr, Vernon Oharr, Alex Grieson, Miss Margery Armstrong, Gordon Uesli, Miss Ruby Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Bauer of Santa Ana; the Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Soffley, James Duane, Marvin Everett, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Armstrong and the Misses Helen, Julia and Marian Armstrong.

DENY SECRECY IN NAVY INFORMATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(UP)—John S. Farnsworth, former navy lieutenant commander charged with espionage, declared today from his cot in the hospital ward of District of Columbia jail that "I could not have given the Japanese naval attaches a thing they didn't already know."

The once-dapper Farnsworth, who Monday pleaded "nolo contendere" to charges of communicating naval secrets to Japan, insisted that the information mentioned in his indictment was not "confidential."

U. S. OPPOSES NEW FARNSWORTH TRIAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(UP)—Federal prosecutors today opposed reopening espionage charges against John S. Farnsworth, cashiered navy lieutenant commander and once a favorite of capital society.

Assistant District Attorney Samuel P. Beach said he would ask the court to refuse Farnsworth's request to withdraw his plea of nolo contendere—in effect, "I do not contest the government's charges"—and plead not guilty to selling U. S. naval secrets to Japan.

Police News

The man reported by F. W. Lockhart, one-time special night police officer, as being slumped down in a car at First and Main about 1 a. m. today, was merely "too sleepy to finish my drive to Los Angeles," he informed Officers Chet Gross and Charles Neer when they investigated.

On report from the Thompsons at First and Van Ness about 11:40 o'clock last night, city police investigated and sent the boys who were "too noisy," to their homes. It was bedtime anyhow, the officers opined.

Officers Roy Hartley and J. B. Stephenson, at 2:30 a. m. today, rendered first aid to a local "graveyard shift" waitress who had burned her hand while at work.

On complaint of Paul Hall, 511 West Fifth, that a car was blocking the driveway in such manner as to keep him from parking his own car in his own garage, Officers Chet Gross and Charles Neer investigated, impounding the obstructing car in a public garage.

Fifty pounds of sacked potatoes almost were transplanted yesterday afternoon as they fell from a car at Second and Main streets. But city police reported Charles Wiley, Costa Mesa, dropped in at the station and claimed them as his.

After Hazel McKay, landlady at 414 1/2 West Fourth, reported to city police at 3 a. m. today, that George Schnackenberg, 38, 1401 West Third, was assertedly "beating up" a girl, and after Mrs. McKay signed a disturbance of the peace complaint against him, Schnackenberg was arrested by Officers Charles Neer and Chet Gross and booked at county jail.

Julio Serratta, 20, Placentia, was jailed early this morning by Officer Horace Lucy and charged with being drunk and disturbing the peace. Jesus Sanchez, 22, Placentia, also was jailed on a disturbance of the peace charge, by Lucy, at the same time.

Arrested by Deputy Sheriffs James Musick and Bob Steinberger at his home last night, Vernon Blackman, 23, Buena Park, was jailed on a charge of simple assault and disturbing the peace.

Ed Trujillo, Delhi, today was sentenced to serve a year in county jail when he faced Justice Kenneth Morrison here on a charge he failed to support his

Mary Astor Interviewed Tonight

for changes on their part. (c) indicates chain program (t) transcriptions.

Newlywed Screen Star On KECA, 8:45

"The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here—"

By HOMER CANFIELD
Hollywood, Feb. 18.—
GOOD FORTUNE BEAMS broadly on Eliza Schallert tonight. For from coast to coast the motion picture commentator expects to air an interview with the muchly headlined actress, Mary Astor. (KECA, 8:45)

Scheduled weeks ago, it is by chance the broadcast follows on the heels of the screen star's sensational and unexpected marriage yesterday. That's what we mean by fortune smiling broadly. It's a break an interviewer might wait years and years for and never have happen.

Along about 8:30, Miss Schallert's heart will probably be doing nip-ups. When she's finally on the air with the newlywed three-times-a-bride, you can bet she'll heave a heavy sigh of relief. There's the possibility, you know, that the actress might not show at the last minute. Enough worry to make any stout heart turn handspins.

tomorrow
THE METROPOLITAN OPERA tomorrow morning brings a new dramatic soprano star, Gina Cigna, to the air in "Norma." In this, the most tremendous soprano role in Italian opera, Miss Cigna has achieved much of her success throughout Europe and South America. (KECA, 10:55)

Giovanni Martinelli and Bruna Castagna will be heard in support and Ettore Panizza is to conduct. The complete cast follows:

Polione.....Giovanni Martinelli
Erice.....Bruna Castagna
Norma.....Bruna Castagna
Adalgisa.....Bruna Castagna
Clotilde.....Thelma Voipika
Faviano.....Giovanni Martinelli

Two other features stand out as important tomorrow afternoon—Eddie Albright's description of the "Blessing of the Animals," the most colorful of Spanish ceremonies, which will take place in Olvera Street, Los Angeles, and a half-hour release from the International Horse Show at Santiago, Chile. (KNX, 3)

The Olvera Street pickup is a holdover from last Saturday, having been canceled because of the rain. Eddie Albright has had his heart set on doing this broadcast, so expect more than the usual "just adequate" job most announcers turn in on assignments of this type. (KNX, 2:30)

Ed Trujillo, Delhi, today was sentenced to serve a year in county jail when he faced Justice Kenneth Morrison here on a charge he failed to support his minor children. Mrs. Trujillo is to receive $35 monthly from the welfare department for support of the children, while Trujillo must work on the chain gang to "earn his way."

Brought here by Undersheriff Fred Wilbur and Deputy Sheriff Bob Steinberger yesterday, from Los Angeles, Everett P. Parsons, 37, of Los Angeles, was arraigned before Judge Kenneth Morrison in Santa Ana Justice court, and ordered released to appear in court again on April 20, a. m. Parsons, charged with non-support of his minor children, said he would try to make payments owing in the meantime.

George F. Blake, 616 East Fifth, Santa Ana, told sheriffs officers yesterday that his 1930 deluxe Ford sedan, 1936 license, 1-Y-4636, was stolen from Spring street, Los Angeles, on Tuesday. He said his 1937 plates, license, 2-Y-2742, were in the back seat of the car.

On complaint of Marie Davis, William Summersgill, Santa Ana and employee of a convalescent home here, was arrested yesterday, in China, where he posted $100 bail to guarantee his appearance in Santa Ana Justice court February 23, 10 a. m. to face a disturbance of the peace charge.

Officials of the Associated Oil company, Olinde, reported to sheriffs officers today that safe crackers made an attempt last night to open the safe but failed. The thieves smashed a window to gain entrance. The thieves, failing in the safe cracking attempt, smashed

TEARS OF SADNESS AND BEST WISHES FOLLOW DEPARTURE OF HOSPITAL'S "ANGEL OF ANNEX"

By ELEANOR YOUNG ELLIOTT
There has been an air of sadness among patients in the T. B. annex at Orange County General hospital.

The spirit of brave cheerfulness that seems to distinguish this special department of the hospital, has been a trifle dampened since Miss Bernice Winkelhake, supervising nurse, resigned from that position within the past fortnight.

It was in 1932 that Miss Winkelhake was appointed to her post by Dr. Harry Zaiser, hospital superintendent; Dr. Waldo Wehrly of the T. B. department, and Mrs. Edith Tate Thompson of Sacramento.

During the intervening years she has come to be known among the patients in her charge as the "Angel of the Annex."

When Miss Winkelhake assumed her duties there was an average of 4 patients in this department. The present average is 116 patients and a new building has been erected. Her care and solicitude for the sufferers never lessened in this increased work, and those who have received her kindly ministrations have expressed enthusiastically their appreciation.

One of Miss Winkelhake's innovations was the "Pavilion Tattler," a gay and cheerful little newspaper recounting the activities of patients in the annex and those who reached a stage in improvement that they were dismissed. It was her responsibility as well to plan for holiday programs and entertainment.

Enters Private Duty
Nor did her consideration end when patients were dismissed, according to those who received her attentions. In her hours off duty she visited and helped care for ex-patients and found homes for many orphan children. "She was an angel of mercy," declared one of the former patients at the hospital. "I was present when she told her patients goodbye, and there wasn't a dry eye in the annex. Many patients wept aloud, although all were glad that she was entering the private duty work that she wanted."

In giving up her work at the hospital annex, Miss Winkelhake whose home is in Orange, has arranged to devote all her time to private nursing duty.

There you have it. Have you got it, or has it got you?

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S TWIZZLER

The owner of the land cut the farmer's signature from his postal card and pasted it on the letter for the address. Of course the postmaster recognized the local farmer's signature.

Deputy Sheriff Claude Potter was called upon today to investigate looting of the old Centralia school, under reconstruction north of Lincoln street, west of Anaheim, upon complaint of contractors. Contractors said thieves had carried off parts of the building materials upon several recent occasions.

THE PERSONAL COLUMN

There was joy in old Newport Beach last night. Joe (Druggist) Elliott's Bon Fume won the first race, a $1000 purse for two-year-olds, at Santa Anita. The joy was in the fact that the jockey, Andrew Kym, tomorrow night will be a benefit affair—a benefit for the Dons' two-year lettermen. Receipts will be used to buy two-strippers (notably Ken Nissley and Bob Browning) suitable sweaters.

The correct name of Bob (Don Tackle) Faul is George Faul. At least that's the way it is on the official records. . . . Dwight Nott, Santa football captain of last fall, blows the saxophone. So does Harry Adams, who'll run with Nott. What should be the speediest high school relay team since the days of Norman Paul, Al Reboin, Jim Daneri and Lloyd Nuzum.

Experienced newspapermen never take much stock in those glowing pre-season reports from the track and field, but they say strange things are going on in the Poly field discus rings. Seems Dick Cook, the Don coach, changed the form of all the discs, strong boys to that employed by the late Eric Krenz and right out of the box Al Patterson and Bill Musick of the Saints and Dick Tauber of the Dons began dropping the platter around the 120-foot mark whereas they were luck to beat 100 before. Can't help wondering, though, what the lads will do when the real meets arrive and they start putting the steel tape on those miraculous heaves.

Saint Coach "Pinkie" Greene has discovered a promising Class B sprinter in Wayne Piper, who may fit into the "A" relay team. . . . Coach Harry Macdon of Long Beach Jaycees will insist that all his footballers wear both noseguards and mouth protectors next fall. . . . Art Nunn, bull-necked Jaycee basketball coach at Fullerton, "wouldn't mind if Tustin's Sammy Francis, enrolls as a Yellowjacket next year." . . . Stanford has a new shot put, named Tom Montgomery who soars 6 feet, 3 inches. Of course he'll be known as Tom Thumb before the season has gone far. . . . Jockey Basil James, 17, thumbed his nose at the press box the other day after bringing in Gerald in a Derby trial. Newsmen have been accusing the kid of some "grandstand riding" and one suggested he wear blinkers. . . . U. S. C. offered Fred (Don end) Erdhaus a scholarship in basketball.

A second brother-act to rival that of the Waver boys (Paul and Lloyd) may develop on the Pittsburgh Pirates club within a year or two.

As related in this column, "Arky" Vaughan has obtained permission to take his kid brother, Glenn, to the Pirates' training camp at San Bernardino next week.

Glenn, a youth of 18, just out of high school, has been sought by three other baseball clubs. I hear two Pacific Coast league teams offered him contracts and the St. Louis Cardinals sought his service.

But "Arky" persuaded Glenn not to sign any contract until the Pirates give him a tryout.

Glenn, a second baseman, is reputed to be a hard hitter. His batting average in high school last year was .472. He is 5 feet, 9 inches tall and weighs 165 pounds. Glenn is a right-hand thrower and a "switch-around" batter.

Should the younger Vaughan be able to stick with the Pirates, the combination of two brothers, at shortstop and second base, would be the first in the major leagues.

The Pirates have been lucky in getting players without paying a big price.

Lloyd Warner, the younger of the two Warner outfielders, became a Pirate regular the first year that Brother Paul took him by the arm and led him into the Pirate training grounds.

"Arky" Vaughan once before tried to make another brother, Kenneth, a major leaguer. In 1933, Kenneth, also known as Teak, was brought to camp and played a number of games in the outfield, but failed to make good.

Glenn, however, is a better ball player, according to "Arky." The two will room together during spring training so Arky can play the "big-brother" role and coach Glenn.

Tustin Favorite Over Anaheim

EXPECT TILLERS TO END SERIES PLAY PASADENA

One up and one to go, Tustin's polished basketball squad is expected to clinch the Orange league championship tonight when it meets Anaheim in the second of their two-out-of-three game playoff series on Orange's neutral court.

The tolling Tillers have won 20 of their 25 starts this season and so completely outplayed Anaheim in the first game last week that only a theatrical reversal of form will keep the Colonists in the running, and make a third game necessary Tuesday.

Tustin's first opponent in the Southern California championship eliminations—provided it again turns back Anaheim—will be either Pasadena or Excelsior of the San Gabriel Valley league. Pasadena, the undefeated favorite, was to meet Jordan of Long Beach this afternoon; if Pasadena loses it will have to go into a playoff with Excelsior.

Coach Bill Cole's Tustinites are at full strength and rate as prime favorites, although hardly expected to duplicate the splendid 40-14 margin of the inaugural Walt Linker, star guard, is ready to go after a brief illness and Coach Cole reports his other regulars in good shape. Anaheim will start the same five some that was completely outplayed and outshot in opened. Coach Dick Cook expects his men to give a much better account of themselves, believing they had an off-night in the 40-14 rout. He especially looks for improvement from Ted DeVeliss, husky center, who was limited to one point by Larry Monroy's vigilant guarding after averaging close to 15 points a game through the season.

'BAXTER MILE' LURES BECCALI

BY LESLIE AVERY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Former Olympic Champion Luigi Beccali, Italy's great distance runner, succumbed today to the glitter and prestige of "Baxter Mile" and withdrew from his scheduled two-mile duel with Don Lash, long-striding Indiana senior, in the New York A. C. track and field games at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Beccali's decision to enter the mile gives the entry list for this event an all-star Olympic cast. The Italian will be matching strides with one man who beat him in the 1936 Olympic 1500 meters at Berlin.

Glenn Cunningham, world indoor mile record holder, who ran second to Jack Lovelock of New Zealand at Berlin, constitutes Beccali's biggest threat. Luigi lost the Olympic title he won in 1932 at Los Angeles when he strode third behind Lovelock and Cunningham last summer. Cunningham's flame-scarred legs, however, appear to be in as good shape as ever, and he hasn't lost a start since he began running in the colors of the New York Curb Exchange A. C. this fall.

Archie San Romani who finished right behind Beccali in the Olympic 1500, is the third entrant in this 26th running for the Baxter Cup. The field assumes an added international flavor with Miklos Szabo, the great Hungarian middle distance runner, fifth is the veteran Gene Venzke from Pennsylvania.

YOUNG NET PLAYERS TO BE ENCOURAGED

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—(UP)—The U. S. Lawn Tennis association moved to strengthen America's Davis Cup hopes today by naming a sub-committee to develop younger players.

It will be known as the Junior Davis Cup committee, headed by Alrick H. Man, Jr. Its duties will include observing, developing, and coaching of promising young players.

Battle Blizzards In 90 - Mile Sled Derby

Emile Martel and team winning the 1934 International Quebec Dog Sled Derby

BY RICHARD MCCANN
(NEA Service Sports Writer)
QUEBEC, Que., Feb. 19.—The good burghers are going to the dogs up here these days.

You see, these are the dog days of the Frozen North with the International Dog Sled Derby being run today, Saturday and Sunday. It is one of the most gruelling of all sports and it makes you feel sort of ashamed that you ever grumbled about plodding a half block through a bit of slush for the 8:15 trolley.

The contestants—they call them "mushers" up here—must cover a 90-mile course that climbs up-hill some of the way and skids down-hill some of the way. Nearly all-ways there is a driving snow to blind them, and a bitter wind, colder than a politician's heart, to numb them.

The spectator sees only the start and finish of each of the three 30-mile laps. To see the whole thing you'd have to run alongside of the boys and their dogs and, remembering your daily dash for the 8:15 for comparison's sake, you can see that that would hardly be the thing to do, even with ear-muffs on.

TEAMS VARY IN NUMBER

The starting point of the race is quite a sight—and sound, too. With the 18 or so dog teams gathered there, the mushers have their hands full keeping them from getting all tangled up.

Some mushers have eight dogs in their teams, some 12. You might think that the biggest team would have a better chance of winning. But not necessarily.

You see, under the rules of the race, the musher must bring back all of his dogs. That is, if one of his maileutes collapses from cold, or exhaustion, or injury he must unhitch the dog and place him in the sled and haul him back home.

This, as you can see, burdens the rest of the dogs, slows them down and possibly exhausts others in the team.

The sled is a long, light affair—as light as possible and is usually made of birchwood.

The dogs are all sizes, shapes and colors. Most of them are a mixture of Greenland Eskimo, Green Dane, Newfoundland and Shepherd. The original purpose of the race—which is one of many held throughout the north and northwest—is betterment of the breed.

You see, the dog teams are the main method of transportation for trappers and other hardy inhabitants of the snow fields and they need dogs, durable dogs to carry them through the winter. Naturally, races such as this stimulate competition among the dog breeders and lead to better dogs.

EVERYTHING BUT MUTUELS

But, like horse-racing, the dog sled racing is none bigger as a sport and it is presumed that the good burghers of Quebec wager small sums here and there on the race, although, to be sure, I saw no mutual windows at the starting line.

The race starts early in the day, with the teams dashing out with brave yelps into the snow-banked country at five minute intervals.

The musher, whip in hand, sometimes runs alongside of the dogs, sometimes rides the runners in back of the sled, and sometimes helps the dogs lug the sled up some steep incline or through some stubborn snowbank.

After the teams have battled and barked their way out of sight and sound, the spectator, lucky fellow, shivers off to the nearest hotel bar for a bit of hot toddy, or two, to await the return of the teams in about two hours, or so. Some of the more sports-minded spectators, of course, he themselves out to Lake Beauport to watch the skiers, or out to the triple-track toboggan slide on Dufferin Terrace.

There are four former champion mushers in this year's derby. They are Ovide Carriere, who won last year in 6 hours, 40 minutes and 42 seconds; Harry Wheeler, who won the 1935 race; Emile Martel, the 1934 champion, and Frank Dupuis, the 1926 winner.

MILLING EXPECTED TO LAST 10 ROUNDS

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Henry Armstrong, Al Jolson's claimant to the world featherweight crown, meets Varian Milling, Filipino veteran, in a 10-round bout here tonight.

Armstrong, whose contract is owned by Jolson, is favored over Milling who never has lost a bout in San Diego.

Country Club Prepares For Team Match At 'Meadows'

Carrying on the finest tradition of the 28 teams, Santa Ana country club golfers practiced today for their first match (at Mountain Meadows Sunday) of the 1937 Southern California association's inter-team series.

Dr. Garland C. Ross, again leader of the group, has tentatively selected his lineup for the opening as follows: (1) Club Champion Dick Ewert and Jack Robertson; (2) Ed Holmes Jr. and W. W. Foote; (3) Harold S. Wright and A. W. Robertson; (4) E. E. Wilson and Ben Manker; (5) Ted Burkett and Ray Chapman; (6) Elmer Curry and L. W. Bemis, and (7) Homer Robinson and Warren Fletcher.

Dr. Ross believes this is the strongest 14-man team that Santa Ana has ever started in the winter matches, and has several players in reserve he calls fully as competent. The lineup will be changed from week to week to give all of the outstanding players a chance, he said.

Santa Ana was eliminated in its own group last year but in 1935 reached the semi-finals of the Southern California championship playoffs. In 1934 won that title in '33 was defeated in the finals and in '32 reached the semi-finals. No other club has a record to compare.

Redlands and Red Hills are the other clubs in Santa Ana's division this season.

Mrs. J. L. McFadden's 96-88 and Mrs. Don Andrews' 105-78 tied for first place in yesterday's medal play tournament for country club women. Mrs. C. H. Chapman's 110-20-90, placed third.

per's opinion and gets 120 pounds. Next comes his stablemate, Special Agent, which is levelly weighted with Mr. Bones at 117.

The classy Boxthorn is next with 116, then comes the sensational Seabiscuit and the improving Aqueduct at 115.

Other weights include Red Rain, 112, Tempestuous, 108, Sangreal, 108, Howard, 108, Gold Seeker, 107, Star Shadow, 106, Moon Side, 106, Piccolo, 104, Sir Emmerson, 104, Marynell, 100 and San Luis Rey, 100.

The $50,000 Santa Anita Derby will not be split in two sections. In order to do this it would be necessary to obtain the consent of all trainers with horses in the race and this could not be accomplished, although some of them favored the plan.

Jockey George Woolf was yesterday signed to ride Sir Oracle in the Derby. This striking son of Bull Dog qualified handsomely for the race and his chances will be enhanced by having one of America's top booters in the saddle.

Jockey Basil James, leading rider at the 1936, has been sold to the Belair Stable of William Woodward by his contract employer, A. G. Tamm. Longden will report to Trainer Jim Fitzsimmons in Florida, immediately following the running of the Santa Anita Handicap.

Sarada, owned by the Circle M. Ranch, has gone wrong and probably will be on the shelf for some time. He pulled up lame in a workout the other morning.

HANDICAPPERS GIVE OLD MAC PAIN IN NECK

BY HENRY MCLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 19.—(UP)—If I were elected president of the United States, the first thing I would do (after driving through a red light and telling the cop where he could go) would be to appoint race horse handicappers to all the difficult ambassadorial posts.

They would make superb representatives, especially in those countries where relations were touchy and any forthright expression of opinion would be sure to lead to complications. I felt to thinking on these lines today (it takes a fall to make me think, you know) when I consulted the form sheets and selection pages before moving on Taleah for an afternoon of play among man's best friend or the king of beasts, or whatever they call the horse.

In the past I never had sought the aid of handicappers when playing the horses, but depended on my own system, a sort of combination of the Chinese and hatpin theories. But when it began proving unreliable on tracks that were slow, fast, or muddy, I yielded my pride and turned to the men who rate horses for a livelihood.

It was after reading three or four sets of their selections that I saw in them the most able diplomatic talent. I would like to quote you a little of their information. Here is a typical comment on the first race at Hialeah Wednesday:

Horse Comment
Ed Sullivan . . . stake effort promising.

Notoriety . . . looks like one to beat.

Dolly Kay . . . can upset whole race.

Arch Fiend . . . figures close up here.

Barbara S. . . . plenty trouble-some.

Cuckoo . . . fit and ready right now.

Those six comments couldn't make anybody mad. They represent the best in diplomatic phraseology. If, for example, you put your money on Notoriety because he seemed the one to beat, you'd have only yourself to blame if Dolly Kay came romping in, for there, right in black and white, is the flat statement that the Kay child has the stuff to upset the whole race.

The second race comment, chosen from an entirely different bunch, is that the horse that is good enough to beat his opposition, or besting the horse that's too good for him and taking all the money.

Horse Comment
Quickly . . . should beat this kind.

Balkanese . . . Might take it all.

War Jewel . . . given a good chance.

Bright Emerald . . . has trained briskly.

Phlox . . . gets in with feather.

New what could be fairer to the better than that? It is simply up to him to decide whether he would rather back a horse that is good enough to beat his opposition, or besting the horse that's too good for him and taking all the money.

BUSY WEEKS AHEAD FOR WOOLEN MILLS

Decks were cleared today for two of the Santa Ana Woolen Mills' most attractive basketball games this year: (1) Saturday night's match in Andrews gymnasium with Santa Ana junior college, and (2) Monday's fracas at Orange with the Concordia clubmen.

The Woolen Mills dropped a 30-27 decision to the Bank of America at Loyola university in Los Angeles last night, this being a Los Angeles basketball association contest. The Bankers moved into a 19-11 lead at the half and made it hold up as the Santa Anans gradually slashed the advantage in the last half.

Manager Quentin Matzen announced today that his cagers definitely will enter the A. A. U. open tournament that begins in Los Angeles March 1. This event will attract the leading independent quintets in Southern California.

Bank America (30) (27) Woolen Mills (19) (11) (1) Wiener Mortara (6) (1) Sullivan Weaver (8) (1) Wheeler Stubbs (1) (1) L. Lockhart Smith (12) (1) G. (4) S. Lockhart Substitutes: Woolen Mills—Kolkhorst (6), Silverwood (1), Eastham.

Braddock Signs Despite Threat Of Suit

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—(UP)—James J. Braddock signed a contract today to defend his world heavyweight championship against Joe Louis. For his first bout since he dropped off relief rolls to fight Maxie Baer in 1935, Braddock will receive $500,000 or an option of 50 per cent of a gate expected to reach $1,100,000 at Comisky park next June 22.

Louis' share will be 17 1/2 per cent of the net receipts and a shot at the world championship at the age of 23. He will be the first Negro challenger since Jack Johnson knocked out Jim Jeffries at Reno in 1910.

Each will share motion picture and radio proceeds. The contract ceremonies were held over the protest of Madison Square Garden which threatened legal action if Braddock ran out on his Garden contract to defend his title against Max Schmeling at New York June 3.

STEELE RISKS TITLE IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—(UP)—The busiest week of the middleweight division has seen in years is climaxed in Madison Square Garden tonight when Freddie Steele, pride of Tacoma, risks his title in a 15-round duel with Eddie (Babe) Risko of Syracuse, the former champion.

Steele, who won the crown from Risko in Seattle, last July, is 6-5 favorite to win his first appearance in an eastern ring and score his third victory over the former gob.

Earlier this week in Paris, Marcel Thil, recognized world champion by the International Boxing union, retained his title claims by winning on a card from Lou Brouillard of Worcester, Mass. Wednesday night, young Fred Apostoli of San Francisco smashed into the front ranks of contenders with a sparkling victory over Solly Krieger, New York veteran.

Thus, there is a possibility that the winner of tonight's fight may defend his crown against Thil in Paris or against Apostoli.

Steele, an unusual champion these days because he's willing to fight anybody, defended the title once. That was a 10-round decision victory over "Gorilla" Jones New Year's Day in Milwaukee.

Tonight's battlers have met twice before Steele, who has been a professional fighter since he was 15, got the nod both times. He whipped Eddie in Seattle in November, 1935, in a non-title affair and then beat him by a shade over the 15-round route last July.

OXY. WHITTIER VIE IN S. C. CONFERENCE

Occidental and Whittier college basketball quintets meet Friday and Saturday nights in two of the California conference schedule. Tonight's game is to be played on the Tigers' court and the Saturday evening encounter goes to Whittier.

If the Tigers win or divide the series the game between the Aztecs of San Diego and Occidental on the following weekend will be played for the championship of the 1937 conference. At the present time San Diego State and Occidental are tied with five victories and one defeat.

The Poets on the other hand can eliminate the Tigers by winning both games, thereby moving into second place. This is based on the supposition that San Diego State, with a very strong team and a fine record, can defeat La Verne in the two games scheduled at San Diego.

Redlands and Santa Barbara State clash in the other two games on the schedule both to be played at Redlands.

The standings:
SOUTHERN CAL. CONFERENCE
Occidental . . . 5 1 335 295 200
San Diego . . . 5 1 385 262 212
Whittier . . . 5 2 374 280 203
Redlands . . . 3 3 350 203 190
La Verne . . . 2 6 300 110 110
Santa Barbara . . . 0 6 300 193 333

INDIANS, BEARS CLASH

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—Teams seeking titles in western basketball conferences carry their hopes into battle on the intercollegiate front tonight.

Stanford plays California, a Berkeley, A win for the Cardinals will give them their first series win over the Bears since 1921, as they already have won two games from "Nibs" Price's men.

Washington and Washington State tangle at Pullman in the first of a two-game series. The teams broke even at Seattle last week, leaving Washington State in first place by half-a-game over Oregon with Washington, defending champions, in third position.

TITENSOR AND HERBERT SCORE TEAM'S POINTS

In a sparkling exhibition of backfield passing and running as well as scrum play, Santa Ana junior college's rugby team, coached by Ernest Butterworth, former Canadian Rugby coach, defeated the University of Southern California freshmen fifteen, 5-0, on the Los Angeles Coliseum turf yesterday.

Surprising even old-time rugers, including Coach Ernest Butterworth—one of Canada's outstanding football leaders—the Don made such a good showing in their first "out" that they are being hailed as a real threat to major university and independent teams. The victory enhanced the chances to arrange a scrum with the U. S. C. varsity later in the season.

Allen Titensor, co-captain of the Dons' Southern California football champions last fall, was the hero. Titensor made a try on a 25-yard dribble over the goal, where he fed on the ball for 3 points. Joe Herbert then converted, adding two points.

The Don scores came just before the end of the first half. Instead of regulation 40-minute periods Coaches Bill Haney and Butterworth agreed to 30-minute halves.

Dan Boyd, scrum half; Bo Pannell, stand-off half; Virg. Stevens and Herbert, wings; E. Stanley and Fred Lentz, three quarters, and Sam McCann, full back, were the men who stood out for the Dons. However, Coach Butterworth also was high in praise of the Don scrum, which included Fred Pinkston, Bill Twiss, Pete Kotler, Dick Tauber, "Rusty" Roquet, Titensor, Howard Ras and Fred Wagner. Coach Butterworth substituted four men during the contest: Lyndon Carman, Che Riley, Joe Crawford and John Mc Bride.

TRUCK DRIVER INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Gordon Knight, 27, 515 South Orange, driver of a Weber's truck, was injured about 10 a. m. today on 17th street and 10th boulevard as his truck collided with a car operated by William McGinnis, 19, 1225 1/2 West 17th, Santa Ana, who was also injured.

Both men were being treated at county hospital, Knight injured shoulder, McGinnis, fractured hands, neck and face. Knight was traveling westerly on 17th, McGinnis, northerly on 10th boulevard, California highway.

Constable Jess Elliott reported Santa Ana police yesterday that driver of the motorcycle squad, William McGinnis, operator of a delivery car, had collided with the intersection of Fruit and 17th streets without personal injuries resulting. Sergeant B. A. Roney of the motorcycle squad reported that McGinnis, operator of a delivery car, for having no driver's license.

As result of a spectacular collision on Coast highway just outside Laguna Beach city limits, when driven by George Stephens, Elmer, and T. J. Landreth, South Laguna Beach, collided, Landreth is arrested on a drunk charge by Sheriff L. T. Cresswell and his deputy, William Caldwell. Justice C. Cravath fined Landreth $10.

COMPETITION KEEN IN WALKER CONTEST

As the time grows nearer to finals in the "Opportunity" contest staged at Walker's theater, O. R. Haan, Chrysler-Plymouth distributor for Orange county in conjunction with Vic Walker of Walker's theater, each Friday evening at 9:30, competition is getting keener between the contestants. Since the announcement that a winner will be sent to New York, all expenses paid, the applications for auditions for the contest have increased tremendously. Haan stated today that between "Happy" Simpson and Vic Walker, arrangements are being made to give all applicants an opportunity of "showing their stuff" from the stage of Walker's theater.

A very appreciative audience has accepted the amateurs each Friday evening with a response that has been more than appreciative. They have displayed more than a warm reception for those trying to entertain them.

Haan's "Happy" Simpson has requested that all persons interested in entering the "Opportunity" contest contact him as soon as possible so that he can arrange for their audition and arrange to get on the show.

Otto Haan states that they have had to turn away hundreds of people each Friday night and suggests that you reach the theater at 8:30 to be sure of securing a seat but should you find it impossible to go to the theater, the program is broadcast from local radio station at 8:30 each Friday evening.

O. R. Haan, who sponsors these broadcasts, is distributor for Chrysler and Plymouth cars for Orange county and maintains new car display rooms at 504 South Main street and an attractive used car lot at 210 East First street in Santa Ana.

BLACK CALLA LILY IN BLOOM TODAY

A beautiful, black calla lily which superstitious folk sometimes say portends catastrophe when it blooms, is blooming today in the back yard at the home of Mrs. J. H. Kirkland, 804 Hick-ory street, in inviting those deflected in seeking the flower, to visit the Kirkland place.

"But I'm not superstitious at all and don't believe any such superstition which is related to this beautiful flower," Mrs. Kirkland said. The flower blooms but once a year and today's the day for Mrs. Kirkland calla lily. Mrs. Kirkland said she would be at home to show the flower to flower lovers interested. She declared the flower probably would not be blooming at all tomorrow.

U. S. TRADE PACT BILL IS FAVORED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(UP)—The senate finance committee today reported favorably the bill to extend for three years President Roosevelt's powers to negotiate reciprocal trade agreements with foreign nations.

The Democratic majority on the committee voted down seven attempts to alter the original during the executive session. The vote was split along party lines with Sen. Josiah Bailey, D., N. C., joining Republicans on three issues.

POSTAL CREDIT UNION FORMED

Organization of the Orange County Postal Credit Union was completed last night at a meeting of the Orange County Postal Employees Association, at a meeting held in the office of Postmaster Frank Harwood in the federal building of Santa Ana.

The organization, to be incorporated under the laws of California governing formation of finance companies is for the benefit of postal employees only. Employees of the postal service in the county may become members of the union by investing in the union, a co-operative organization.

In announcing organization of the group George O. Canfield, Santa Ana, elected president, said today that such a union will enable postal employees to borrow money at a lower rate of interest than is charged by banking houses and will return a slightly higher rate of interest to investors than is paid by the bank. The tentative return to investors is from four to five per cent and the rate to be charged borrowers will be 5 per cent.

At the organization meeting last night other officers, in addition to President Canfield, were elected as follows: C. A. Schermerhorn, Anaheim, vice president; George P. Ames, Santa Ana, treasurer.

Directors, Emmett Smith, Garden Grove; Lloyd Backcock, Laguna Beach; Ralph C. Irwin, Brea; and Elmer Wilber, La Habra.

Credit Committee, C. N. Weaver, Fullerton; Carlton Barthelme, Anaheim and Spencer Elliott, Santa Ana.

Supervisor Committee, Edwin Palm, Santa Ana; L. E. Mitchell, Huntington Beach and Walter Daschner, Laguna Beach.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS RESUME REHEARSALS FOR NEW PLAY WITH FULL CAST PRESENT

With all members of the Community Play cast for "The Importance of Being Earnest" once more enabled to attend the almost nightly rehearsals of the play, indications are for a highly successful production on the nights of March 5 and 6 in the Ebell auditorium.

Influenza has affected members of this cast, as it has all activities in the city, and was responsible for postponing production dates from the end of next week to the first week in March. One of the sufferers was Mrs. Charles A. Riggs whose home at 301 Spurgeon street, is always used for preliminary rehearsals. However, Mrs. Riggs has now recovered and the cast is again meeting in her home for the further development of the play's action. Several of the coming rehearsals will be staged in The Barn, however, with the dress rehearsal next Thursday night on the Ebell auditorium stage.

To those who have followed the progress and development of the Santa Ana Community Players' association, it will be interesting to "place" members of the cast for the Oscar Wilde play. Many of them have appeared in earlier productions, but there are two newcomers. These are Miss Mary Nalle, a teacher in Jefferson school, and Lawrence Patterson. Neither is a stranger to footlights, however. Miss Nalle was active in high school dramatic work in her former home, Owensboro, Ky., and during this past winter has continued her summer course of study at the school of speech of University of Southern California. She has taken active part in musical affairs ever since the family arrived in Santa Ana a few years ago. Her mother, Mrs. Charles G. Nalle, is one of the city's favorite soloists and is prominent in Musical Arts club.

Lawrence Patterson was prominent in Ernest Crozier Phillips' drama class at Santa Ana junior college, and has since had much professional experience. He appeared in various productions of Hollywood School of the Theater, traveled for a year and a half with the Gilbert and Sullivan Lyric Opera company, playing leading roles, and appeared in radio serials over stations KFI and KFEW.

Of remaining members of the cast whose work will be familiar to all Community play-goers, Russell Hathaway made his bow very successfully in "Judgment Day"; Robert Guild was prominent in "Judgment Day" and another outstanding success, "The Bellamy Trial." Harry Brackett has appeared in more Community plays than any other member of the cast, his list including "Seven Keys to Baldpate," "Yellow Jacket," "The Thirteenth Chair," "The Whole Town's Talking," "Mr. Pim Passes By," "Three Wise Fools," "Mrs. Bumpstead Leigh" and "Judgment Day."

J. Leslie Steffensen ranks next in the list of productions in which he has taken part, and which includes "Let Us Be Gay," "Green Grow the Lilacs," "Bill of Divorcement," "Lilium," "Cock Robin," "Hay Fever" and "Judgment Day." Gertrude Horn has to her credit roles in "Yellow Jacket," "The Swan," "Bill of Divorcement," "Green Grow the Lilacs" and "Cock Robin."

Mary Swarthout's local roles have been with "Cock Robin" and "Hay Fever" and Florence Brownridge has scored in "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire," "Green Grow the Lilacs" and "Hay Fever." These plays are all among major productions of the association. But in addition have been innumerable one-acts which have been presented at the monthly Barn programs and in tournament productions when Santa Ana as the host association, has presented courtesy plays from time to time.

CITRUS FRUITS PRIVATE HOME WILL BE O. K.'D RULES CHECKED

Issuance of certificates as to condition of citrus fruits will be resumed by the county agricultural department today, in accordance with an agreement reached by southern county commissioners at a Los Angeles meeting Tuesday. It was announced today by S. S. Rogers, chief of the bureau of fruit and vegetable standardization in the state department of agriculture.

Certification was discontinued immediately following the January freeze, for the reason that the full extent of injury could not be accurately determined until some time after the fruit had been subjected to freezing temperatures, according to Rogers. It is now believed that the extent of frost damage can be detected with sufficient accuracy to justify the resumption of certification.

"Truck loads of citrus fruit will be certified only when the load can be sealed, or under certain conditions designed to prevent substitution of loads," said Rogers.

"No certificates will be issued unless the inspector is present during the entire process of loading and until the load has been sealed."

"Unsealed loads of citrus fruits will be inspected at the highway inspection stations. Sealed loads will not be inspected at these stations if they conform in all respects with the certificates accompanying them."

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT

CRIME FILE ON BOLITHO BLANE

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Investigating the murder of BOLITHO BLANE, the son of a millionaire, aboard CARLTON ROCKS' yacht, Detective Officer Kettering has been busy for a number of days.

As the investigation progresses, Kettering learns from the BISHOP OF BUDE that Rocksavage possessed the boat motive for the crime—financial gain. Moreover, he learned that Rocksavage was in the boat to dress for dinner in four minutes, a fact conceivably enabling him to commit a murder and return to the ship's lounge without creating suspicion. Only NICHOLAS STODART, Blane's secretary, has a complete alibi.

Confronted with Jocelyn's revelation, Rocksavage counters that Jocelyn, too, had a good motive—money. Furthermore, that Japanese agent INOSUKE HAYASHI, stood to gain a million dollars had Blane lived and concluded a merger with Rocksavage, thereby killing the soap monopoly deal.

Hayashi, questioned again by Kettering, admits interest in the soap monopoly, but denies murdering Blane. He says he was in the boat for her time when the crime was committed.

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXI
DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S FOURTH REPORT, CONTINUED

HAVING re-examined all the parties, I proceeded to a new analysis of the situation and composed a fresh draft of possible motives.

MRS. JOCELYN: Nil, as far as is known at the moment but she is in collusion with her husband, supporting his statement that he was in his bath at 7:45, when we know that he was not, and she may or may not have been in her own cabin at that hour.

COUNT POSODINI ALIAS "SLICK" DANIELS: A motive, in that he admits that it was through Blane's agency that he was sent down for his first term in Sing Sing, and that Jocelyn brought him on board with the deliberate intention of getting even with Blane. It is even possible that Jocelyn may have paid him to do the job, or that they did the job between them. His alibi depends on his being able to prove that Mrs. Jocelyn was in his cabin from 7:45 till 8:10, and this she denies.

MR. ROCKS' SAVAGE: Strong motive, and it is now proved, owing to his capability of changing in under four minutes, that he had ample time to commit the crime between 8:10 and 8:30.

THE BISHOP OF BUDE: Strong motive. In the Bishop's previous statement he said that he had only met Blane casually in an English country house once about

SPLIT VERDICT IN VOTE FRAUD

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 19.—(UP)—A federal court jury today returned a split verdict in the trial of five election officials and workers charged with conspiring to commit ballot fraud in the November 3 election.

John H. Drummond, Democratic precinct captain, and Edson M. Walker, Democratic judge, were found guilty. The jury was unable to agree on the guilt or innocence of the three other defendants.

Judge Merrill E. Otis dismissed the jury. Those found guilty will be sentenced by Judge Otis Thursday morning.

The defendants about whose fate the jury was unable to decide were Elijah Burke, Republican judge; Mrs. Anna O'Laughlin, Democratic clerk and Loretta McEntee, Democratic judge.

District Attorney Maurice Milligan said he would decide later whether they would be tried again. Drummond and Walker were released immediately on $2000 bond. Miss O'Laughlin and Miss McEntee wept when the jury reported it was unable to agree on their cases. The men received the decision calmly.

Two other defendants had entered pleas of nolo contendere, throwing themselves on the mercy of the court. They were Mrs. Tessie Mears, Republican clerk, and Mrs. Chloe G. Albright, Republican judge. They testified for the government.

The verdict was returned as five other election officials and workers from a different precinct of the same ward were being tried on the same charges. Two other defendants in the second trial had pleaded nolo contendere.

HOME ECONOMICS GROUP CONVENES

Orange County Home Economics association held a dinner meeting last night in Anaheim Union High school, where 21 members assembled for a program presented by leading home economists of the State.

Miss Maude Evans, of Whittier college, told of the newly-organized home economics department at Whittier; Mrs. Anita Powers, president of Home Economics association, Southern section and Miss Pauline Lynch, past state president of Home Economics association, discussed activities of state and sectional clubs.

Miss Verna Riddon, of Anaheim, introduced the speakers following a business meeting conducted by Mrs. Myrtle Parry, of Santa Ana. Hostesses for the evening were Anaheim teachers including Dorothy Powell, Verna Riddon and Ruth Moore.

ways travels with him, and in the presence of the doctor, Detective Officer Neame and myself, he made the following voluntary statement.

"As a man who is responsible for many millions of other people's money, I have been subject to bouts of worry at times, when my affairs have not been going well. In consequence, a few years ago, I took to the habit of administering drugs to myself by injection; their purpose being not to allay nerves but to keep me up for further efforts at times when I was suffering from severe strain."

Dr. Ackland has always prepared these injections for me and, on the night in question, I brought him down to my cabin with me for this purpose, as I anticipated having to enter into a strenuous conference with Blane that night after dinner. It was customary for me to rest for a quarter of an hour after the injection, in order that the drug might take effect. I did so on this occasion. Dr. Ackland remained with me until I had changed and went up to the lounge for dinner.

Carlton Rocksavage.

DETECTIVE OFFICER NEAME'S SHORTHAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S EXAMINATION OF DR. FRANK ACKLAND, Ph. S. D., F. C. S. B.

K. Doctor, you have just vowed for this statement of Mr. Rocksavage, that you went below with him at 8:10. You are quite certain that is correct?

A. Yes.

K. But you weren't in the lounge with him?

A. No. I was sitting just outside, enjoying the evening air on deck. As Mr. Rocksavage passed the deck entrance of the lounge he saw me and beckoned. I knew at once what he wanted, so I got up without a word and followed him down.

K. You had to come into the lounge to follow him down the companion-way though.

A. Yes. A few steps, that's all, as the companion-way is within a couple of yards of the deck entrance.

K. No one in the lounge seems to have noticed you. Don't you think that strange?

A. Cane, the lounge steward, saw me. Ask him if you doubt my word, and Mr. Jocelyn, too, Mr. Rocksavage and I passed him in the passage-way below.

K. Thanks, doctor. If the lounge steward saw you I guess that will do.

HIGH SCHOOLS TO BE INVITED TO FIESTA HERE

Allen Titensor, student manager of the Orpheo troupe, at Santa Ana Junior college, announced today that letters had been sent to Orange county high school principals outlining this year's program.

This year a large variety of entertainment is being provided for the tours. Twelve Orange county high schools will be visited, inviting graduating seniors to the annual Fiesta day activities in May.

Schools to which letters have been sent are Santa Ana, San Juan Capistrano, Tustin, Orange, Anaheim, Brea-Olinda, La Habra, Valencia, Newport Beach, Laguna Beach, Huntington Beach and Garden Grove.

Features of this year's troupe are a one-act play by the drama department, men's chorus, men's glee club, women's glee club and women's double sextet.

The men's glee club has increased in membership to 41, the largest organization of its kind in Southern California junior colleges. Titensor said. Principals of the high schools will select their choice from the list of entertainments for an assembly at their discretion, Titensor revealed.

Jimmy Fidler in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 19.—"Second test," in Hollywood's private language, means second chance. Rare indeed the lucky actor who rates one. Of thousands who have failed at first opportunity, a mere handful were recalled for encores. Mac West, Greta Garbo, Fred MacMurray, Fred Astaire—they received second calls. It makes me shudder to think how close the industry came to losing them. And I often wonder how many others who failed to gleam through first tests might have been Astaires or Garbos had they been given other trials.

The industry is too elipsoidal with its tests. Studios will spend multi-thousands sending talent scouts to far places, and will outbid one another for promising stage newcomers. Then they will hand over their young discoveries to broken-down directors or embryonic assistants for testing. As a rule, little attention is given to wardrobe, lighting or camera, and less to script and the mental ease of the testee. He is lucky if he lives through the ordeal. He is a million times luckier if his test registers well.

There are exceptions to the rule of carelessness, notably Samuel Goldwyn. He insists that as much thought, workmanship and art go into a test as would go into a million dollar production. As a consequence, I have yet to hear of Goldwyn letting a find slip through his fingers. On the contrary, he is personally reputed to have unearthed as many potential stars as rival major companies. By way of proof, Lois Moran, Vilma Banky, Gary Cooper, Anna Sten, Ronald Colman, Merle Oberon, David Niven, Andrea Leeds, Walter Brennan

Joey cracked: "What do you mean, most actors?"

You hear nice and you hear mean things about Janet Gaynor. That is true of almost any actress who goes quietly about attending to her own business. I first knew her thirteen years ago, and I thought then as I do now, that she is one of the sweetest girls in town. A few days ago a young stenographer playing her first picture bit (in Janet's picture) sat timorously on the far sidelines. I saw her, and mentioned to Miss Gaynor that the girl was probably scared to death.

"Poor kid!" exclaimed Janet. "Introduce us and I'll try to make her feel more at home. I know just how she feels."

When I left the set, Miss Gaynor and the newcomer were chair to chair, chatting like two members of Tuesday's Sewing Circle.

GEO. BALL WILL TAKE LEAD IN COLLEGE PLAY

A leading man has finally been cast for "Lost Horizons," Santa Ana Junior college Fiesta play. He is George Ball who tried out for the part Tuesday night. Virginia Wilson is the feminine lead. All but three characters had been cast last night, and it looked for a while as though there might never have been a leading male. Ernest Crozier Phillips is directing the production.

Each year in conjunction with the annual Fiesta, the drama department puts on a play. "Lost Horizons" promises to be one of the most outstanding productions put on by the college department. Mr. Phillips said.

Besides Ball, Bill Greshner, Harold Pottorff and Paul Christ were cast for characters Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A. Aside from those chosen, the rest of the cast consists of Carolyn Ryan, Lou Ella Pierce, Barbara Kiser, Wadine Siler, June Beckstrand, Jane King, Elmer Meyer, Harold Barrett, Lawrence Trickey, Edward Velarde, James Doyle, Joe Yocum, B. M. Keeton, Bob Paul, Marvin Hinton, Joe Crawford, Joe Kobayashi, Ole Orrell, Emery Steele and Paul Martin.

SOLOISTS FOR MUSIC PROGRAM ARE ANNOUNCED

Announcement was made today naming the soloists who are to assist the four choirs of the First Presbyterian Church of Santa Ana in their presentation of "The Holy City" by A. R. Gaul, which is to be given Sunday evening, Feb. 21st, at 7:00 p. m. in the local church auditorium.

Marion Graaf, soprano, will sing the lovely soprano air "These Are They" and also the solo obblato in "List the Cherubic Host" which is arranged for women's chorus with soprano and baritone solo. Miss Graaf possesses a rich soprano voice, which has been most adequately trained in this country and abroad. She spent some time studying with Raoul Frazzi in Florence, and also with Gabriel Lapiere, noted teacher of Paris, France. She is at present coaching opera with Umberto Martucci, of Los Angeles, where she recently sang a leading role in "Floradora." Last winter she made a trip to the Orient, where she sang in Shanghai and Tokio. Her renditions Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church will be most noteworthy.

G. Willard Bassett, tenor, will sing the tenor arias, which include "My Soul Is Athirst For God" and "To the Lord Our God." Bassett is recognized as one of the leading tenors in this section, having recently won recognition in the California Hour Radio contest. His musical training began at a very early age, for at the age of nine, he was a member of the famous Whitney Boys' choir, and possessed the highest soprano voice in the world. He was at that time, able to sing the top B flat on the piano.

He is now studying with John Claire Monteith of Los Angeles, and previously coached with Percy Rector Stevens of New York. His was the distinction of being the winner in a state soloist contest in Colorado, while attending the state university. His experience in church music has been long and varied, and at present he has charge of the music in the local Christian church. His voice will be a valuable addition to the work of the choir next Sunday evening.

Stanley Kurtz, baritone, is entrusted with the magnificent baritone solo, "A New Heaven and a New Earth" as well as the solo obblato in "List the Cherubic Host." Kurtz has a resonant baritone voice which has been well trained by Madame Ada Turner Kurtz of Los Angeles.

Van Sweringen Palace Goes On Block

Daisy Hill Farm, the estate near Cleveland into which the late Van Sweringen brothers poured at least $2,000,000, is to be sold by banks holding Van Sweringen debts. The house, shown in the top picture, was converted from a giant barn into a palace with a swimming pool, glassed-in parlors, and furnishings of rare early American antiques. Below is the bedroom of O. P. Van Sweringen as it appeared before his brother's death. Stock in the 500-acre incorporated estate is now in the hands of a creditor bank for liquidation.

While still a college student, he sang the exacting title role in the aratorio "Elijah" and has since given creditable performances of like import. He recently sang a leading part in the production of "Daughters of the Regiment" by Donzetti, which was given by the Riverside Community Opera association. He is at present soloist in the Christian Science church of Santa Ana.

The coming presentation of "The Holy City" is to be under the direction of Whitford L. Hall, minister of music in the Presbyterian church. Hall came to the church about a year ago, and has been gradually developing the music and choir of the church, membership in which is entirely voluntary. The choir have, upon other occasions, given fine account of themselves, and it is expected that this Sunday's program will be no exception.

CALLING ALL DOGS!

By Albert Payson Terhune

MASTER OR MISTRESS?

I wonder how many people have written me asking: "Which do dogs like better; men or women?" From my own experience I can testify that our successive generations of Sunnybank collies and our dogs of other breeds have loved the Mistress far better than ever they have loved the Master. It is so in many dog-owners' homes; in most of them, I think. But when it becomes a matter of obedience or of eager companionship, I think men have the advantage.

For one thing, the average woman's voice has not the stern tone of command, the roughness, or the language of authority or of rebuke, that a man's has. For another, the average woman is not the dog's comrade during fast miles of cross-country hiking or of hunting, as is a man.

A normal dog loves hard exercise and adventure and excitement. These his master can give him in more ample measure than can his mistress.

The average dog loves your wife or daughter better than he loves you. But he is prone to obey you better and to be more interested in your activities.

VIOLIN ARTIST WILL BE HEARD AT CLAREMONT

In the midst of his eighth consecutive American tour, acclaimed as one of the greatest living virtuosos, Nathan Milstein, brilliant young Russian violinist, appears in Briggs auditorium, Claremont, Tuesday evening, February 23, 8:15 o'clock in the fifth event of the Claremont college artist course.

Both as boyhood friends and as artists in joint recital, Milstein's career has long been identified with Horowitz and Piatgorsky, Robert J. Bernard, program arrangements chairman, said in announcing the event.

Born in Odessa in 1904, Milstein made his debut in Paris in 1925 after he had arrived there from Russia without violin, money or connections. Four years later, he made his first American appearance, and since, has made many.

At Claremont, Milstein will play on his famous Stradivarius "Dancia," an instrument made by Antonius Stradivarius in Cremona in 1710. Included on the Claremont program are "Sonata in A Major," Vivaldi; "Sonata in D Minor, Opus 108," Brahms; "Concerto in D Minor, No. 2," Wieniawski; "La Campanella," Paganini; "Consolation," Liszt; "Flight of the Bumble-Bees," Rimsky-Korsakoff, and others.

A camper in a forest deep,
Asleep fell from his cot;
Landed on the cold hard ground,
At midnight on the dot.

He dreamed he was upon the moon,
And, oh, the sun was bright;
Up in the sky, away up high,
He saw a lesser light.

It proved to be a shooting star,
Believe it, if you can,
A dazzling light that followed him
Whichever way he ran.

When he awoke, he left the woods,
The dream had scared him so;
To stay at home he has now zeal,
And never wants to go.

COMMUNISM LOSING GROUND IN FRANCE ACCORDING TO MRS. T. GLENN, AFTER VISIT

That the danger of France coming under Communistic control is steadily decreasing both in the minds of the French people and in French political circles was affirmed yesterday by Mrs. Thomas H. Glenn who recently returned to Santa Ana after a six months' visit to her parents in that country.

Mrs. Glenn, a native of France, until 1931 when she came to this country, sailed for France in October and returned February 1, on the German liner, Bremen. She spent a week in New York with friends before returning here. She is the wife of Thomas H. Glenn, head of the Santa Ana Junior college English department.

"Communism was strong in French public opinion two months ago, but is now losing its popularity. Liberal minded French people have come to regard Communism as too drastic a political step. The Fascist element led by the popular war hero, Col. La Roque, as head of the Nationalist party is very popular and is well supported," Mrs. Glenn explained.

The present Socialist government under Premier Leon Blum is in a precarious position. In Blum's hands lies the future political destiny of France within the next few weeks. French people generally feel that he must refute the communistic platform.

Studied at University

Mrs. Glenn did graduate work at the University of Paris for her Ph. D. degree from the University of Southern California while in France. In reporting on student life at the university Mrs. Glenn said:

"French university students have no student dormitories and no active social life as in American colleges. Sports are now coming into popularity but have no affiliation with the universities. Classroom attendance is not compulsory. Grades are based entirely on final examinations. Universities are run by the government."

"French students are very active in political life of France. Student riots are not uncommon. There are many royalist students at the universities but they are in a minority," Mrs. Glenn cited.

The Duke of Windsor's abdication from the English throne also received with wide publicity in France. French people think the Duke acted like a gentleman. His choice of "the woman I love" in preference of the throne received the widespread approval of the French. William Randolph Hearst is blamed by the French newspapers as the cause of the scandalous publicity given the affair.

"France fears the heavy rearmament program of Germany. France's frontier is heavily armed. Bridges and viaducts crossing the Rhine or near the border are mined. Should Germany attempt to invade French soil these crossings would be blown up hampering transportation of troops," Mrs. Glenn said relative to Franco-German relations.

NRS SEEKING WOMEN TO FILL JOBS NOW OPEN

With 18 women already placed in permanent positions this week, Mrs. Helen Ackerman, head of the Women's Department, National Re-employment Service today issued a call for approximately 19 women to fill other positions that are now waiting.

First on the list is the request for an experienced and efficient secretary. This position, Mrs. Ackerman said, pays an excellent salary and will be permanent.

Two competent stenographers are sought to fill positions now waiting and there also are jobs for two companions and five jobs as housekeeper. The housekeeping jobs pay salaries ranging from $39 to $33 monthly, board and room.

Another position waiting to be filled is that of cook for the superintendent and other executives of a ranch, the position paying $50 monthly, and room and board.

There also are numerous requests for maids in private families and for elderly women to serve as mothers' helpers in return for homes and small monthly salaries.

any American city. Exhibition of Paris, its reputation are seldom the famous gowns that have given seen except at festive occasions.

That President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his social reform program is highly regarded by the French populace was another statement of Mrs. Glenn's. "In the recent presidential election the French newspapers openly conceded Roosevelt an outstanding majority. Governor Landon, though not slighted, was given little serious consideration.

"France's general political attitude at the present is to inaugurate some far-reaching social program like President Roosevelt's to aid France's underprivileged."

Anaheim Home Is Scene Of Linen Shower

Guests at a party last night honoring Miss Lucille Dunn, fiancée of Howard Gould, had the pleasure of inspecting the pretty new home of Mrs. Glenn Eustis, 1116 West Center street, Anaheim, where the pre-nuptial hospitality was staged. Mrs. Eustis and Mrs. Ernest Dunn were co-hostesses at the affair.

One of the first events of the evening was presentation of linen gifts to Miss Dunn. The attractively-wrapped packages were piled high on a table over-hung with three silver wedding bells. Bouquets of Chinese lilies contributed to the pretty setting arranged for the occasion.

Tallies were distributed for bridge games. Mrs. John Gould, who scored high, received a pair of candlesticks; Mrs. Paul Brown was consoled with a bubble bowl.

Violets and bouquet tapers arranged in white pottery holders centered tables at which refreshments were served late in the evening. The honoree cut the first slice in an elaborately-decorated cake whose frosting bore her name and that of her fiance, Mr. Gould. The confection was served with pecan ice cream roll of heart design. Miss Ruth Dunn assisted in serving.

Guests included Mrs. Ruth Plummer, grandmother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Alice Bridgford, grandmother of Mr. Gould; together with Mr. Gould's mother, Mrs. John Gould; an aunt, Mrs. McClay, and Mesdames Clyde Deardorff, Nelson Rogers, Walter Limbaugh, Bruce Harnois, Kim Hamilton, George Lightfoot, Dalton Pratt, Neal Adams, Noble Renner, Charles Leamer and the Misses Viva Fickes, Marjorie Belcher, Genevieve Eustis, this city; Mrs. Paul Brown and Miss Ruth Dunn, Burbank; Miss Blanche Aldridge, Los Angeles; with the two hostesses, Mrs. Glenn Eustis and Mrs. Ernest Dunn, and the honoree, Miss Lucille Dunn.

Luncheon Honoree Showered With Gifts

Mrs. Howard Youel, 508 East-side avenue, entertained Wednesday at a luncheon and layette shower honoring Mrs. Percy Vines of Long Beach.

Guests were seated at tall pink tapers and spread with a lace cloth centered by pink and white flowers. The afternoon was spent in sewing and playing bridge, with the shower as a pleasant climax.

Present besides the hostess and her honoree were the latter's mother, Mrs. Joe Miller, and Mesdames John Cooley, Wellington Snider, Gladstone Coulson, Charles Olson, all of Long Beach; Mrs. Gertrude Licht of this city; and the hostess' mother, Mrs. R. P. Nieb of Los Angeles.

VISIT IS CONCLUDED

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Eklund, 1827 West Ninth street, have been entertaining Mr. Eklund's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eklund of Great Falls, Mont., who left yesterday for their home after having spent the past two weeks here and in Los Angeles. Mr. Eklund is Montanapresident representative for the Montana district. He and his wife came to California by automobile, joining the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson of Billings, upon the latter's arrival by train.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are remaining for a little longer visit in Santa Ana and Los Angeles and on February 28 will sail on the S. S. Pennsylvania for New York. There they will take delivery on a new car in which they will make the return trip to Billings.

County Legion Auxiliaries
Greet Their State Leader

Not as an agency for war, militaristic in its trend, but as one of the greatest peace agencies in the world—thus was American Legion and its auxiliary characterized last night by Mrs. Ruth Mathebat of San Francisco, department president of Legion Auxiliary, when she was group guest and principal speaker at the county-wide auxiliary dinner meeting and initiation at which Santa Ana auxiliary entertained.

Eloquent and forceful, Mrs. Mathebat's address was heightened in power by the sincerity of her manner, and proved a high light of one of the most successful of the auxiliary's annual membership dinners.

The event of course found its setting in Veterans' hall where Mrs. Tona Sandon and her officers welcomed more than a hundred guests, since other auxiliaries in the county sent delegations, and were represented by candidates for initiation. Mrs. Margaret Hill and her committee had prepared a truly delicious dinner menu, and tables in the main audience room radiated with the festive table in the center of the room. Festoons of tri-colored crepe paper, gleaming candles in the patriotic colors, flowers and place cards all directed attention to the first portrait of George Washington, given prominence on the stage. Men of American Legion Drum Corps proved their efficiency and co-operation in serving.

Special Guests

Mrs. Sandon made introduction of special guests one of the pleasant features of the dinner hour, and later in the course of the evening, many of these guests added brief talks to the program. At the speakers' table with the president and the special guest, Mrs. Mathebat, were Mrs. Marjorie Wingate, 21st District president; her first vice-president, Mrs. Pauline Cleary; Mrs. Lillian Thorpe, County Council president; Commander C. M. Featherly of Santa Ana American Legion; Ben Lieberman, Fifth Area commander; presidents of various patriotic groups, Mrs. Denny Black, Eight at Forty; Mrs. Pearl Laub, Jack Fisher D. A. V. auxiliary; Mrs. Irene Stewart, Ernest Kellogg V. F. W. auxiliary; Mrs. Martha Elliott, Gold Star Mothers; Mrs. Amy Stewart, Auxiliary Mothers' Club; Miss Mary Charlotte Hoover, Junior Legion Auxiliary.

Included among introductions were Mrs. Sandon's sister officers, Mesdames Jack Rasmussen, Edna Eklund, Grace Lepper, Margaret Hill, Gretchen Kellogg, Rosanne Hardcastle, Ruth Anderson and Beatrice Ewbank. One of the most arresting phases of this initiative was the presentation of past auxiliary presidents. Seated at a special table, these women who have moulded the destinies of the auxiliary, and developed it to its present high standing, received applause and admiration from everyone present.

In the group beginning with the first president, Mrs. Fannie Reeves, and ending with the junior past president, Mrs. Alma Hoover, were Miss Louise Tubbs, Mesdames Florence Robinson, Nora McCalla, Josephine Lykke, Agnes Struble, Gertrude Colver, Marian Matthews, Margaret Hill, Edna Eklund and Ruth Jellis. Only three past presidents were absent. Other introductions included presidents of county units, Betty Liebhart, Anaheim; Louise Osmon, Orange; Adah Kirkpatrick, Huntington Beach; Elsie Fairbairn, Fullerton; Vivian Nickodem, Brea; Julia Hayward, Laguna Beach; Laura Marks, Tustin; Matilda Hooper, La Habra; Florence Porter, Placentia; Mildred Jones, Garden Grove; Nella Norton, Newport; Faye Moffett, Seal Beach; Georgia Clever, Buena Park; Grace Cox, Costa Mesa, and two press representatives, Betty Cox of the Journal and Eleanor Young Elliott of the Register.

Fine Floor Work

Opening the after-dinner program was the impressive floor work of the drill team captained by Rosanne Hardcastle and with Zoe Maag at the piano. Their intricate maneuvers were carried out with such precision that they met with warm applause and with a special commendation from the guest of honor, Mrs. Mathebat. Apropos of the team's work, announcement was made of the "Gay Nineties" program which the team is staging in Veterans' hall the night of March 5 to institute a fund for attending the state convention in Stockton, Mrs. Wingate, district president, added an interesting note by requesting the privilege of purchasing the first pair of tickets for this event.

The drill team conducted rites of initiation for the large class of candidates. Adding to the impressive of the final charges administered by President Tona Sandon,

Comus Members
Hold Monthly
Dancing Party

"Two Hearts Beat in Three-Quarter Time" could have been the theme song for part of the festivities at Comus club's monthly dance last night in Orange Legion hall, where special features eloquent of St. Valentine's day were introduced to add to the interest of the occasion. Members matched cut-out hearts for partners during an enjoyable dance which proved one of the highlights of the evening.

Seventy-five couples who belong to the dancing club, and 12 guest couples shared the pleasant event, which came as the first party held under the regime of the new president, Fred Merker.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. William Stauffer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ragan, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Welch and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Daniger. Mrs. Stauffer's gown was of wine red crepe with matching jacket; Mrs. Ragan wore black net with touches of coral velvet; Mrs. Welch was in red tulle; Mrs. Joseph Daniger, black chiffon.

It was valentine time in the clubhouse lounge, where the only light was that of the tall red tapers which gleamed from gold candleabra.

Board members of the club will be brought together for a luncheon Monday noon at Danigers. Election of new secretary will be a feature of the evening.

Parties

Many club members took the opportunity to assemble groups of friends in advance of the dance. Mr. and Mrs. Riley Huber, 1116 South Parton street, had as guests, Dr. and Mrs. F. F. Bruning, Messrs. and Mesdames Edwin Holmes, Robert Fernandez, Mrs. Chandler and George Clough, and Al Fernandez of this city with his guest, Miss Kathryn Padie of Long Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. John Wehrly received a group of friends at dinner in advance of the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cannon assembled four couples in their home 4511 Holmdrop Drive. The group included Mr. and Mrs. Don McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Dickey and Dr. and Mrs. L. N. Sherrard, members of Comus club; with a guest couple, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Conklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Barr were hosts in their home on North Newport road, Tustin. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Tubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fory.

Interesting Speakers
Address
Ebell Garden Section

Interesting speakers addressed Ebell Garden section members yesterday at their luncheon meeting in Ebell clubhouse. Especially important was the talk by W. C. Pieters of the German Seed and Plant company, Los Angeles, who made "Spring Planting" his theme and spoke particularly of the care and pruning of roses. An unusual phase of his appearance was the assortment of some 30 specimens of bulbs, seeds and rose bushes which he distributed among section members.

Mrs. J. E. Paul, whose garden club activities are so well known throughout the county, talked on "New and Rare Plants" in her usual interesting fashion.

Mrs. Bertha Delano McCracken, district chairman of art, and also leader of the Garden section of Santa Ana Woman's club was welcomed as a guest. Mrs. E. C. Franson was accepted as a new member.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. F. P. Nickey, and members are asked to call her at 3378-W if they are unable to attend.

Hostesses for yesterday's meeting were Mesdames W. H. Hilton, George Raymer, William Armstrong, George Perkins, B. B. Kellogg, A. J. Bowen and C. H. Jeffrey.

MRS. SWITZER IS GUEST

Mrs. Carrie Switzer of San Diego is a houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. George Bond, 507 East Myrtle street. Mrs. Switzer, who plans to return home tomorrow after a few days' visit in this city, was here for a meeting of Pegasus club yesterday. She is a member of the Bungalow Literary Hostess society of San Diego.

ORANGE, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Albert Struck and Mrs. Andrew Meyer served delicious coffee cake and coffee to members of the Immanuel Lutheran church Aid society, Wednesday when the group met at the social hall for sewing at an all day session. Tables were centered with fragrant white hyacinths. Mrs. A. H. Westerman presided.

W. E. Clement, South Grand street, who is spending some weeks at Palm Springs with Mrs. Clement was in Orange yesterday to attend the Santiago Orange Growers meeting. Mrs. Stella McArthur accompanied the Clements to the winter resort.

Byron's Words Inspire
Theme For Club
Program

Inspired by Byron's words, "There's music in the sighing of a reed; there's music in the gushing of a rill; there's music in all things, if men had ears," members of Pegasus club contributed a varied program to a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Frank Was, 617 Orange avenue.

Mrs. Frank Landsdown, who chose the day's subject, opened the program with a short talk on Byron. Mrs. W. W. Foote read a poem, "The Return." Mrs. C. C. Fuller, a member who has been ill and unable to attend meetings regularly, was welcomed to the meeting. She presented poems, "Song of the Tumbleweed" and "Lake McDonald."

Mrs. Justus Birtcher read "Music of the Sea"; Mrs. George Bond, two short poems, "In Tune" and "Beside the Hearth," and a triolet "Music Cheers." Mrs. Bond reported that her poem, "Orange Trees" had been accepted for publication in the Circle Magazine.

Mrs. Emily Munro read a poem, "Music of the World"; Mrs. Was, a dialogue selection, "The White Rose"; Mrs. Earl Morris, "A Morning Surprise"; Mrs. Charles Eklund, a short story, "Love Never Falters." Mrs. Charles Eklund sang a pretty number, "The World is Full of Music," the melody of which she had written to a little poem, Mrs. Carrie Switzer, of San Diego, a guest of Mrs. Bond, read a poem, "Baby's Record Book."

Completing the program was a delightful interval during which Mrs. Was served dessert including ice cream designed with George Washington hatchets. Mrs. Clarence Bond and Mrs. Munro assisted at this time.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Ray Brown.

Santa Anans Attend
Son's Marriage
Tomorrow In San Diego

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Kilgour, 420 Harwood place, will go to San Diego tomorrow to attend the marriage of their son, Ross Greig Kilgour and Miss Fern Carolyn Johnson of Glendale.

The ceremony will be a quiet event at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in San Diego Episcopal church. The Rev. Mr. Barnes will officiate.

After their honeymoon, the young couple will establish their home in San Diego, where the bridegroom is employed with Union oil company. He had his schooling in San Diego. The bride is a graduate of Hoover High school, Glendale.

Los Angeles Nuptials
Of Much Interest
In This City

Prominent among nuptial events of the week in Los Angeles was the wedding of Miss Barbara Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whipple Ward of that city, and Charles B. Hart of Long Beach, an event of the twilight hour Wednesday, February 17, in Chichester Chapel of Immanuel Presbyterian church.

Charles B. Hart is well known in Santa Ana, where he has been a frequent guest of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Walker, 511 West Third street, and their son and daughter-in-law, the Victor Walkers. He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hart of Iowa, and is now established in Long Beach where he is connected with the police department in furthering his preparations to enter the federal branch, F. D. I.

Both Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Walker were in attendance at the wedding which was a formal ceremony of much beauty, with the satin-clad, tulle-veiled bride attended by her bevy of attendants, and Mr. Hart assisted by his best man and various ushers. Victor Walker was one of the ushers for his cousin, and he and Mrs. Walker went into the city Tuesday for the final pre-nuptial gayeties. These included rehearsal, a rehearsal dinner and a formal reception that evening in Santa Monica.

The bride completed her course at University of Southern California this past year, and she and Mr. Hart took their wedding vows before the professor of religion at the University, a close family friend. The young couple left from the wedding reception in the Earl Whipple Ward home, for a honeymoon at Palm Springs, and will make their home in Long Beach.

Masonic Hosts
Complete Plan
For Big Party

Program plans progressed today for the gala party which Santa Ana Masons will stage Saturday night in Masonic temple, with additions to an already varied entertainment including the Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers talking-singing-dancing picture, "Top Hat," which will be screened for guests.

The showing of the popular picture will come as a feature of a gala party which will begin with a vaudeville program at 7:45 o'clock. Those who wish to dance part of the evening or all of the time will find Lacy Swayne's orchestra making music in the ballroom, it was announced today.

Santa Ana lodge No. 241, Silver Cord lodge No. 505, Jubilee lodge No. 604, Santa Ana commandery, K. T. No. 36 and Santa Ana chapter R. A. M. No. 73 form the host group for the party. They have issued a general invitation to all Masons of the city and any friends they may wish to ask to attend the affair.

The opening vaudeville program will be presented in the main chapter room on the third floor of the temple, with Lyle Anderson as master of ceremonies. Those who wish to play cards will find all readiness for auction and contract bridge in the third floor lounge.

Showing of motion pictures will take place in the main chapter room, and dancing will be in the big ballroom.

Refreshments will be served.

Party Guests Present
Linen Gifts
To April Bride-Elect

Red and white flowers and other appointments in the popular color combinations were used in brightening the home of Mrs. Cecil Suddaby on Newport Road Thursday night for a shower commemorating Miss Viva Goff of Laguna Beach. The marriage of Miss Goff and Joseph Craft of Tustin and Our Village will take place April 2.

The hostess had chosen hearts as the diversion of the evening, distributing appropriate tallies for card play. Prizes wrapped in red and white tissues and ribbons fell to the lot of Mrs. Greed Watts and Mrs. Raymond Stein, who held high and low scores; and to Mrs. L. H. Craft, who received galloping award.

Red tapers gleamed on the dining room table with its effective arrangement of heart cut-outs and a flaming cluster of Japanese peach blossoms. Chinese lilies and sprays of red-berried shrubbery completed the attractive setting.

Guests were seated at small tables during a pleasant refreshment interval, when ice cream cakes designed with dainty red roses were served. Assisting Mrs. Suddaby at this time were Mrs. Kenneth Savage and Mrs. Esther Rummels.

Present with the honoree, Miss Goff, were her mother and two sisters, Mrs. Allen Goff and Miss Iah Lee Goff of Laguna Beach, with Mrs. Bruce Vercely of San Pedro; Mesdames Edward Ertman, Raymond Stein, Creed Watts and Miss Helen Campbell, Laguna Beach; the Misses Vera McDonald and Mildred Staples, Irvine; Mrs. Charles Craft, Capistrano; Mrs. L. H. Craft and Mrs. Esther Rummels, Tustin; Mrs. Paul Danforth, Santa Ana; Mrs. Kenneth Savage, Balboa; with the hostess, Mrs. Suddaby.

Yes, Madam...
There IS a New Method of Permanent Waving

Aerogene is a new method of permanent waving, employing a very modern, scientific principle that produces permanent waves of a quality heretofore unknown, with added safety and comfort.

Years of experimental work by the combined efforts of the research staffs of the New York and European companies of Eugene, Ltd. has perfected the application of this modern scientific principle to the permanent waving of hair, which eliminates the possibility of "dry heating" and its effect on hair.

No electrical heaters or pre-heated bakers are used. Neither is lime, lye or other heat-producing chemical used. By means of small, light-weight contact clips, carrying only 4 volts of electricity through the Aerogene Sachet, the Aerogene waving solution is quickly brought to the steaming point and never exceeds 212 degrees, F.

One of the features of the Aerogene Method is that the heating process stops when the moisture exhausts itself, even though the electric current has not been switched off at the end of the desired steaming period. The Aerogene Method is unusually successful on difficult textures and types. It is recommended to those patrons who have a demand for better permanent waves.

Church Societies

Foreign Missionary

Yesterday afternoon's meeting of women's Foreign Missionary society of First M. E. church was held in the church social rooms under the direction of Mrs. S. E. Hearn, president, who opened the services with prayer.
Of much general interest was a letter from Miss Dora Saunby, describing some of her experiences en route to Kolar, India, where she will act as superintendent of the nurses' training school at a medical missionary station. Miss Saunby left on a Japanese liner well in advance of the Christmas holidays, and is probably at the station by this time.
"Man's Greatest Need" was subject for the devotional period in charge of Mrs. Lawrence, who drew her material from the 42nd and 134th Psalms. A sponsorship ceremony followed under direction of Miss Mary Lamb. Those taking part were Mesdames J. S. Flack,

M. Pamsey, White, C. A. Linwood, Laura Leonard, E. M. Mills, A. E. Cox, B. Hosler, C. A. Lane, Eldora Demarest, Mary Allen and Harry Chapman.

Mrs. H. L. Tway as program chairman, introduced Mrs. Blanche Owens and Mrs. Sadie Greene, who with Miss Mayne Havens, at the piano, sang "Lassie O' Mine" and "One Fleeting Day." Mrs. Duane Smith discussed "Schools in Africa" and Mrs. Jack Snow gave random items of information regarding Africa. "African Heroes" was theme of an interval to which Mrs. Hildebrand contributed a talk on Dr. David Livingstone, and Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Flack told of native heroes. The program closed with an article on "Proving God" read by Mrs. Emma Carhart.

Lenten Luncheon
Given as the second of a series of Lenten luncheons was a pleasant affair Tuesday in Episcopal Church of the Messiah parish hall, with St. Elizabeth's guild members as hostesses for the day.

In charge of preparing luncheon were Mesdames Marshall Harnois, Frank Lansdown, H. F. Brinkerhoff, William Wollaston and Fred Anderson. Mesdames Adelaide Lowe, Preston Turner and George Lusk were in charge of serving. They decorated tables with Chinese lilies. Sixty guests were present for the event.

Hermosa Past Matrons
Enjoy Program
On School Day Theme

Yesterday's meeting of Hermosa Past Matrons association in Masonic temple was made a centennial celebration marking the 100th anniversary of the McGuffey readers. The pages of time were turned back as members reminisced about school days, and enjoyed singing such favorites as "Auld Lang Syne."

Hostesses were Mrs. A. E. Wallace, Mrs. George Osterman, Mrs. Jennie Peck and Miss Martha Watson, who introduced a patriotic theme in details of a delicious luncheon served at 12:30 o'clock. Tables arranged in T shape were appointed with flags and George Washington hatchets rising from cellophane holders.

Mrs. H. T. Jones was at the piano for various numbers which were interspersed in a school-day program arranged by Mrs. J. W. McCormac. Mrs. H. T. Trueblood gave the history of the McGuffey readers, and told about the life of the author. Fifth and sixth grade readers published many years ago were on display.

Mrs. J. F. Jacoby, Mrs. John A. Harvey, Mrs. G. R. Safley and Mrs. F. D. Drake gave appropriate readings. Piano numbers played by Mrs. Jones included "In the Gloaming," "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Yankee Doodle" and other selections inspired by the various program features.

Business matters were in charge of Mrs. C. F. Mitchell, while Mrs. F. A. Moore conducted devotional. Announcement was made that election of officers will take place at the March meeting, which will be a closed event.

Guests were Mrs. W. G. Lewis, worthy matron of Hermosa chapter; Mrs. W. G. Wharton, aunt of Mrs. Trueblood; Mrs. F. W. Tamblin, of Kansas City, Mo., a guest of Mrs. J. W. McCormac; Mrs. Helen Hubbard, of Omaha, Neb., a guest of Mrs. Maude B. Watson; Mrs. Dorothy French, past matron of Ontario, now living in Santa Ana, and Mrs. Paul Bodenhamer.

Members present were Mesdames W. A. Atkinson, W. D. Barker, C. D. Benight, J. C. Burke, Thomas Brooks, Jacob Bohlander, Neal Reisel, F. H. Claves, F. D. Drake, C. S. Dunphy, John A. Harvey, M. M. ## The Mixing Bowl

By ANN MEREDITH

Neither dogs, cats or ferns can thrive if pedantic that polite but expressive word for unwanted "walking delegates." Two weeks ago my lovely Christmas fern began to look sick all of a sudden, so I had a fern clinic, finding the poor thing just about ready to walk away it was so covered with the mealy bugs that attack ferns. I made a mild soap suds (Ivory), stood the fern in a kettle of water to soak up and while it was soaking the soapy water was gently poured over every frond, later rinsed off with clear, tepid water. Then, the hunt began, the bugs being transferred to a cup of water until the cup was a third full. The fronds that were too badly infested were cut off and burned. Then, into the soft soil tiny spears of soap were stuck, close to the edge of pot and back it went to its sunny window. I wish you might see that fern and its improvement in a bare two weeks!

If any reader has a better way to remove these pests—and there must be such a way—I would appreciate hearing about it. Also, tonics for droopy plants and foods for forcing growth and blooms.

Share your plant lore with us, won't you? For such information, or a good recipe, (don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope) a copy of the Calory List will be mailed to you by return mail.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Sweet Potato Puff
2 cups mashed sweet potatoes or mashed yams
2 egg whites beaten stiff
2-3 cup evaporated milk mixed with 1-3 cup water
1 cup diced pineapple and
1-2 cup pineapple juice
Marshmallows, butter and cinnamon for top.

If you elect to use canned sweet potatoes, just run enough through the food grinder to make the two cupsful. Whip mashed potato with the milk, add pineapple and juice, season with salt and fold in the beaten egg whites. Pine into a shallow baking dish, sink marshmallows into top, dust them with cinnamon and bits of butter. Bake in a medium oven 30 to 40 minutes. Serve with chicken or chops.

Possibly you would like to try a good pineapple pudding for dinner later in the week. I can highly recommend this one.
Pineapple Bread Pudding
1 cup of diced pineapple, more if available, up to 2 cups
Pineapple juice and water to make 2 cups
1 heaping cup of sugar
5 tablespoons melted butter
3 eggs, whites and yolks beaten together
11-2 cups soft fresh bread crumbs — A tested kitchen recipe.

Put pineapple, juice and crumbs into a bowl. Beat eggs with sugar, add to crumb mixture, stir in the butter and bake the pudding in a shallow buttered pan, for 35 minutes, oven medium. Serve hot or cold, with thin cream.

Potted flags and red, white and blue tapers adorned the dining room table in the home of Mrs. L. R. Wilson, 690 First street, Tustin, Wednesday afternoon for a pleasant interval during which dessert was served to bridge club members.

Combination place cards and tallies depicted Betsy Ross making the flag. Winner in the card contest which followed the serving of dessert was Mrs. Lynn Ostrander.

Guests were Mrs. Gilbert Martin and Mrs. H. L. Boyer, substituting for Mrs. Guy Darnell and Mrs. B. J. McReynolds. Members sharing Mrs. Wilson's hospitality were Mesdames Guy Dowds, H. G. Wilson, Nan Dale, Sidney Russell and Lynn Ostrander.

Study Club Members
Hold Meeting

Study club members discussed "The Changing Child" yesterday morning during a meeting in the home of Mrs. Herbert Hayson, 322 South Garnsey street. Mrs. Guy Matias was leader for the day.

The hostess served dessert to the group, who included Mesdames James Sims, Josh Wilson, Guy Matias, L. D. Spencer, Virgil Kiser, John Adams, William Humphrey, members, and Mrs. Hazel McGowan, a guest.

Since the next regular meeting of the group would fall on March 4, the date already set for a silver tea to be held at Spurgeon school, a new date will be named for the next session.

Adult Education News

Next Monday the adult education department will present Mrs. Malbone Graham on the Federal Forum program at the high school auditorium. Mrs. Graham will be the forum leader for four consecutive Mondays. She will discuss America's Foreign Policy. Both Mrs. Graham and her husband, Dr. Graham of U. C. L. Many Guests Attend
Layette Shower
In Tustin

Many friends were assembled for a layette shower honoring Mrs. Louis Ebel of Tustin Wednesday afternoon when Mr. Ebel's mother, Mrs. Henry Ebel and the honoree's aunt, Mrs. Frank Grisct, joined in entertaining. Mrs. Grisct's home, 690 South B street, Tustin was setting for the affair.

Flowers used in decorating for the occasion included a lovely bouquet sent in by one of the guests, Mrs. C. E. Utt. Miss Marian Carson won a prize in a contest during which the group contributed advice to a young mother.

A stork figure stood guard at a table where a pink and blue basket was piled high with gifts for the guest of honor. Pie a la mode and coffee were served on individual trays appointed with pink and blue napkins designed as booties. Assisting in serving were the hostesses' daughters, Miss Vivian Grisct and the Misses Etta and Gwinn Ebel.

Invited to share the affair with the hostesses and their assistants were the honoree, Mrs. Louis Ebel and Mesdames John Sauer, Albert Hilbert, J. E. Gorton, Worth Alexander, Charles Marshall, Laura Custer, Philip Ebel, Lida Esby, Charles H. Whitney, R. L. Farnsworth, Eleanor Duncan, Edward Dietrich, Charles Hallett, R. E. Carswell, Charles Preston, Raymond West, Ernest Byrne, Frank Greenwood, F. L. Haskins, O. B. Newcom, R. C. Korff, J. W. Means, Vincent Humston, Earl Sharpless, Dan Adams, M. C. Pollard, Walter Pollard, C. E. Utt, George Prather, Thomas Shelden, Calvin A. Duncan, and the Misses Marian Carson, Mollie Windler, Marian Custer, Joia Ebel, May Greenleaf, Melissa Montgomery, Audrey Pieper, Gertrude Pollard, Marjorie Rawlings, all of Tustin; Mesdames Emma Kuechel, Julia Ebel, Charles Prather, J. W. Donham, Elmer Ritzer and Miss Mildred Eckwall, Santa Ana; Mesdames C. B. Martin, Hemet; Elmer Farnsworth, Huntington Beach; Ralph Stone and Gavin Baxter, Irvine.

Church Societies

Class Party
Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gerrard's home, 2009 Victoria drive, was scene of a George Washington party enjoyed Tuesday evening by members of Upward and Onward class of Orange Avenue Christian church.

Edward Sperry and Arthur Sperry, dressed in appropriate costumes, greeted guests and aided in dispensing the hospitality of the home. At the close of a session of games, refreshments of sandwiches and cherry pie were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Gerrard, Mrs. Fay Whitten and Mrs. Harry Switzer.

Present were Mesdames Carrie Peck, Martha Hoogestien, Amy Hoffmaster, Mary Massey, Etta Pistole, G. Galbraith, W. L. Henderson, Charles McDonald, Florence Krone, Messrs. J. C. Sperry, C. N. Turner, C. A. Patton, Hugh Gerrard, Fay Whitten, Harry Switzer; with a group of young people including Bobbie Turner, Layman Sperry, Donald Sperry, Elwood Sperry, Arthur Sperry and Jack Gerrard.

IRONY

By Helen Welshimer

I SHALL be the one to weep,
Lie in bed and count white sheep,
Wondering how pain could accrue
From the bliss of loving you.

YOU will be the one to sleep,
Oh, such pleasant dreams you'll reap
When our brief romance is through,
That's the way men often do.

THIS is what I prophesied,
But I find my senses lied.
I don't know which way you went,
But I'm perfectly content!

DINNER HOSTS

Among the many hosts paying special attention to valentine day, were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh K. Hougham of 2003 North Broadway, who were hosts Sunday at a dinner of charming appointments on the general decorative theme of the day.

In the party with Mr. and Mrs. Hougham and their daughter, Miss Harriett Hougham, were Mr. Hougham's mother, Mrs. Marilla Hougham, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. McAfee of San Marino and their son Dick, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Williams of Pasadena.

TO RETURN HOME SOON

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Terry, who have been in the east and south on a wedding trip, are expected to return home sometime this month, according to the bride's mother, Mrs. Cora McGuire, 803 North Broadway.

The marriage of the young couple took place in January in this city. The bride will be remembered as Miss Irene McGuire. Mr. and Mrs. Terry are in Cookeville, Tenn., with the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Alice Terry, and expect to begin the trip home as soon as weather conditions permit.

NOW RECUPERATING

Miss Mary Jane Welder, who was at St. Joseph hospital suffering with a severe attack of double pneumonia for three weeks, is recuperating in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Whittam, 417 East Bishop street.

Miss Welder, who is reported making a nice recovery, expects to be able to resume her senior year studies at Santa Ana High school within the next few weeks. She plans to return to her home with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Whittam, 1131

Local Tots To Take Part In Style Review

Saturday will be a great day for little Miss Marcia Lee Norton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Norton, 805 South Parton street, and Beverly and Mary Jean Hendrickson, children of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson, of Orange Park Acres. On that day the three very young people will take part in a fashion show to be held under auspices of Laguna Beach Ebbel society.

Shoes from Peterson's and clothes from the Betty Rose shop will be modeled by the three local children, with the assistance of two little tots from Laguna Beach, Mrs. Norton and Mrs. Hendrickson are among local residents who plan to attend Saturday's affair, which will include also the showing of spring attire for adults.

EVENING OF BRIDGE

Bridge club members motored to Corona early this week for a pleasant evening in the home of Mrs. Albert Tinsner, Mrs. Jack Casey and Mrs. Harold Breeding won prizes for their high and low scores.

The hostess served a dessert course at the close of the evening. Her guests were Mesdames Lucius Conker, Russell Goetting, Robert Goetting, Jack Casey, Harold Breeding and Joe Cornelius.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Bruce Vegerly in San Pedro.

You and Your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Davis and daughter, Patricia, of Coeur d'Alene, Ida., arrived Wednesday for a two weeks' visit with relatives in this city. They will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Davis and son, Monte, West Second street, and of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Zornes and son, Jim, 1304 West Fifth street.

Mrs. John Friedman, of Owensboro, Ky., has gone to Hollywood to visit with her son, John Friedman, an artist, after a week's stay in this city with old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Nalle, 814 South Birch street.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Tamblin, of Kansas City, Mo., are spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCormac, 112 Church street. The Santa Anans and their guests enjoyed a two-day stay at the McCormac ranch at Fallbrook. Mr. McCormac and Mr. Tamblin were former classmates in Sedalia, Mo., schools. When they conclude their visit here, the Kansas City residents will go to San Diego. They expect to be in the Southland for the remainder of the winter and early spring.

GOOD GARDENING

By Mrs. H. Cardozo Sloan, Corona Del Mar

Being sound advice and interesting comment on what to plant and how to care for Orange county gardens.

TUBEROUS BEGONIAS

If you are going to plant tuberous begonias directly in your garden, I advise waiting until later, as rain and chilly weather might rot the tubers. But any time for the next six weeks tubers may be started in flats, really much the better way even if you intend the plants for outdoor bedding.

When your tuber shows a little pinkish sprout (and, of course, you know the side of the tuber with the more or less shallow depression is the top) it is time to start it. If planting time has arrived and the tubers show no sprouts, lay them out in a flat and sprinkle them occasionally and pick them out for planting as the sprouts begin to appear.

Leafed and best seem to be the preferred mediums in which to start the tubers, and both have advantages. Should potting-up be delayed and the rooting tubers left too long in the flats, leafmold will supply nourishment. The high point in favor of peat is the marvelous root growth it encourages. I use peat for starting my tubers.

The peat—or leafmold—should be kept moist, but never wet. Bear in mind always that rotting is the thing to be guarded against from the cradle to the grave in the existence of a tuberous begonia. Some growers barely cover the tuber; some leave the upper third, or even half, exposed. I nest mine cozily into a flat of moist peat, letting the peat rest lightly against the sides, but the entire top of the tuber uncovered. Keep uniformly moist—never wet—in a warm, light, (but not sunny) place, until the little plants are three inches or so high.

If transplanted into outdoor beds, the location, should be shady, light, but away from direct sunlight, and the soil light and porous from the admixture of leafmold and sand. And liberally enriched with well-rotted cow manure, or sheep manure is acceptable. Rake in some bone meal also.

There are several formulas for soil mixture to use in potting. I have seen beautiful begonias raised in a mixture half leafmold and half well-rotted cow manure (blended nearly a year before using). Two parts coarse leafmold and one part sand, with a sprinkle of bone meal, is another mixture. A quarter each of garden soil, leafmold, sand, and rotted cow manure is another. Last year I raised superb tuberous begonias in a mixture two parts leafmold, one part sand, and one part pulverized steer manure, with a little bone meal. Perhaps you have a pet mixture which varies from these. Remember that tuberous begonias like an open, porous soil and that they are heavy feeders, and experiment as to which mixture works best for you.

Some growers like to pot in the smallest pot the plant will take, and pot on as it grows. Personally, I prefer to pot at once into the larger pots, though in this way great care must be taken not to over-water until the plant is well developed. While a six-inch pot will flower a year old tuber successfully, for fine plants I prefer an 8-inch, and for larger tubers I use a 10-inch. Even larger might give better results, but a 10-inch is as large as I can handle.

Whatever the size, see that there is ample drainage in the bottom of the pot, at least an inch of gravel or broken pottery. Barely cover the tuber in potting. When buds begin to show, water once a week with liquid manure and give an occasional dose of something stronger, a good commercial fertilizer. A heavy tonic which cannot safely be used more than once or twice a season is sulphate of ammonia combined with sulphate of potash, in proportion of 10 to 1. Half a teaspoon to a large pot, out around the edge of the pot. I used this last summer, just once, about midsummer when the plants were exhausting their first burst of bloom, and it certainly had a rejuvenating effect. Fish meal also is good, but must not be used too often or too generously.

People are just beginning to find out how easily tuberous begonias may be grown. It seems almost incredible that blossoms so wonderfully beautiful can be produced with so little effort and over so long a period. For bedding in a shady spot; potted for the shady patio; grown—the pendent varieties—in hanging baskets or window boxes, they give a richness and brilliancy of bloom beyond words to express. As cut flowers they are gorgeous in unusual decorative arrangements, and they are unsurpassed as a corsage flower, keeping fresh all day. Last summer, some of the white carnation-flowered worn as an evening corsage were tossed on the bureau at bedtime, in the morning were as fresh as though just cut, and, floated with maid-enhair fern in a shallow dish, lasted over a week.

The first tuberous begonias I remember seeing were grown in circular beds at the base of deciduous trees on a Nova Scotia lawn. They were low growing plants, with quite large, single flowers, considered very handsome. This was at least thirty-five years ago, and the improvement in tuberous begonias since that time, and particularly in the last ten years, has produced plants and flowers so magnificent as to bear slight resemblance to the modest blooms of earlier days. There are still single flowers, but of increased size and loveliness of color. There are singles with the edges of the petals fluffily frilled, and singles with odd crests on the petals looking like trumpet daffodils. The doubles also have several variations. The picotee has a white or cream ground, the edge fretted with red. Some varieties have the colors blotched or marbled in an odd effect. The flambriata, very double and very frilled, resembles an immense carnation. One of the newer types, in the partly opened bud resembles a perfect rose. While the double camellia form is probably still prime favorite.

Up to a few years ago the hanging basket types were singles or semi-doubles. Pretty—still very pretty and graceful. But now we have exquisite double flowers in the hanging type. One tuber will fill a basket and the veil of bloom which falls from all around the basket, sometimes hanging three feet down, is something to dream about.

When the tuberous begonias are commencing to bloom, we walk in our garden in the early morning to see what new beauties are out, and I say "Oh, we can't sell this one!" For it seems no other could be so lovely, and we must keep it for ourselves. But another is as lovely—and another—and another. "More beautiful than orchids," many visitors exclaimed last year. And, indeed, it would be difficult to overpraise these enchanting flowers. As I write about them I can hardly wait for them to flower in my garden again.

By all means try a few tuberous begonias this year, and you will never thereafter be without them in your garden.

A total of $17,317.75 flood relief contributions received to date by the four Red Cross chapters in the county, was reported to the Orange County Council of the Anaheim, Fullerton, Orange and Santa Ana Chapters which met yesterday in Anaheim at 4 p. m. in the mayor's office with Alfred Higgins, of Orange, chairman of the council, presiding.

With more contributions to be turned in, the Council anticipates that $18,000,000 eventually will be reported.

Fullerton chapter reported $2775.28, Anaheim $2124.51, Orange $1783.23 and Santa Ana chapter $10,634.73.

Membership Gains

A summary of the annual reports made recently at all the chapter meetings was given by Mrs. Laura R. Warren, executive secretary of the Orange County Council. The county membership is 5488, a gain of 1703 members in the four chapters. Chapter memberships are: Anaheim 651, Fullerton 911, Orange 854 and Santa Ana 3072. Percentage gains were, Anaheim, 40 per cent; Fullerton, 60 per cent; Orange, 30 per cent, and Santa Ana, 40 per cent.

The chapters served in 67 Home Service cases, making investigations for the army and navy, and giving assistance on veterans problems. Information for many Red Cross chapters was furnished.

A total of 640 First Aid certificates were issued, and 41 classes conducted by 18 Red Cross volunteer instructors. One class was taught by a national field representative.

Six First Aid Stations on the highways were opened, five in Santa Ana Chapter and one in the Orange Chapter.

Hygiene Classes

Twenty life saving examiners were certified by the American National Red Cross. These examiners trained 73 Junior life savers, and 62 Senior Life Savers, besides teaching 268 beginners and 117 Swimmers. Buttons were issued to the latter two groups.

The Junior Red Cross membership in the county totals 14,749, 451 subscriptions to the Junior Red Cross magazines having been received. The Anaheim and Santa Ana High school and all elementary schools in these two cities are enrolled 100 per cent. Three classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick were conducted, and 69 Certificates issued.

The Fullerton, Orange and Santa Ana Chapters carried on volunteer production, garments made for Veterans Hospitals at the instruction of the national organization. Christmas bags were filled by two chapters.

General distribution of the two three-cent stamps of the new United States Army and Navy series began at the Santa Ana post office today.

These adhesives are the same size and shape as the previous one and two-cent values, but are printed in purple ink.

The Army stamp has for its central subject portraits of Generals William T. Sherman, U. S. Grant and Phil Sheridan. Subjects for the Navy stamp are portraits of Admiral David G. Farragut and Admiral David D. Porter. Between the oval portraits is depicted a warship of that period.

Santa Ana received 15,000 of each of the new issues, according to Assistant Postmaster Flake Smith.

The four and five-cent values of the new set will appear in March and April.

WORLD "GOING TO ROWDIES"

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., (UP)—Dr. Miles H. Krumbine, Cleveland minister, believes ideals are as necessary to a healthy personal life as spark plugs are to an automobile. In a sermon at Union College Memorial Chapel, Dr. Krumbine said the destiny of the world is passing into the hands of rowdies.

SPA WATER IN BUDAPEST

BUDAPEST, (UP)—While drilling an artesian well in the heart of the city a valuable medicinal spring has been tapped at a depth of upward of 1000 feet. The healing value of the water of this region was known to the Romans, who without understanding chemistry, made long journeys to bathe in them.

HE FOUND ALL-BRAN BROUGHT REGULAR, DAILY ELIMINATION

Get rid of half-sick days—with the headaches, the listlessness, the "always tired feeling." Frequently, they come from common constipation ... due to meals low in "bulk."

All you have to do is eat a delicious cereal regularly. "Every morning, for years, I have had a good helping of your ALL-BRAN, and it means regular, daily elimination."—Mr. E. N. Kring, 312 E. Hickory St., Fairbury, Illinois.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is so much better than drugging yourself with patent medicines.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal with milk or cream or in recipes. Three times daily in severe cases. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

It's better or your money refunded

BETTER FLAVOR IN THE CUP—a cup of coffee that tastes better—full flavor at any strength, mild, medium or strong—a coffee that is correctly ground for any method of making—a coffee that makes it easier for you to make good coffee—that's what we guarantee to you in M-J-B, the "Strength Essential" Coffee.

And no strings to it. You are the sole judge. You like it better, or it costs you absolutely nothing. You simply return the tin and all your money is refunded on the spot.

This applies to any tin of M-J-B that you buy from any dealer at any time. We've arranged with dealers for this unrestricted guarantee to you. So do not hesitate to try this far finer coffee.

Taste its superior deliciousness. Enjoy its extra-tempting, rich aroma.

M-J-B's "Strength Essential" is a constant richness of true coffee character in every grain of M-J-B, developed through the use of the world's best coffees, plus a special richer roast—a real coffee improvement.

See what it means to you. A better cup of coffee, guaranteed!

The "Strength Essential" Coffee

TURNED DISGRACE INTO VICTORY

LIEUT. ULYSSES SIMPSON GRANT resigned from the army in disgrace in 1854, rather than face charges of insubordination. For years he worked as a humble clerk. Then came the Civil War, and Grant tried to come back. But his record was against him, General Halleck, commander of the Army of the West disliked him, and the public disclaimed him. Gradually, however, Grant's genius fought its way through to recognition. President Lincoln believed in him, and his popularity waxed and waned, as he won and lost battles. Victories at Ft. Donelson, then Vicksburg and Chattanooga heaped honors upon him until Lincoln put him in supreme command of the Union army. When finally he faced General Lee, victory came at last, and great public acclaim. The honor thrust upon him again turned sour, for during his presidency came the horrors of reconstruction, Black Friday, the Credit Mobilier exposures and the Whiskey Ring scandals, which broke his fighting spirit. He sought refuge by travel, and returned penniless and shunned. His picture appears between those of Sherman and Sheridan on the new three-cent army stamp.

Handicap Meet With Oxy Opens S. C. Track Card

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18.—With-out the services of a number of its star athletes, the University of Southern California track team will open its dual meet season with Occidental in a handicap affair at Eagle Rock Saturday. Earle Meadows, vaulting star, is in the east competing in indoor meets. Leroy Kirkpatrick, high hurdle ace, is in poor shape, while Harold Smallwood, quarter-mile mainstay, is seriously ill. Owen Hanson, veteran shot putter, has decided to remain out of competition this season as has "Bud" Day, 14-foot pole vaulter. Interest is centered on the 100-yard dash, with Adrian Talley and George Boone, Trojan aces, spotting the Oxy speedsters liberal handicaps. Boone will also compete in the 220 and broad jump. BOY, 4, LOSES THIRD DOG LORAIN, O. (UP) — Four-year-old "Skippy" Mathna has lost his fox terrier, Zero. Zero's disappearance is bad enough, but what makes it worse is that he's the third dog lost by Skippy.

ORANGE SENIOR CLASS PLAY IS ENJOYED AT OFFERED SOON W.R.C. MEETING

ORANGE, Feb. 19.—The cast for the senior class play, "The Bishop Misbehaves" by Frederick Jackson, to be given on April 18, has been announced by Miss Shirley Haynes, dramatics teacher.

The play, a three-act mystery, centers around the interesting experiences of the Bishop of Broadminister and his sister, Lady Emily Lyons, when they accidentally become involved in the solving of the hold-up of a public house. The bishop, who is always more or less interested in crime, finally outwits the thieves and solves the mystery in a most surprising manner.

GET-TOGETHER ANAHEIM MEN ARE HEARD BY TOASTMASTERS

OLIVE, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Edwin Breije and Mrs. O. Burd entertained the Get-Together club of St. Paul's Lutheran church in the parish hall Wednesday afternoon. The hall was decorated in patriotic colors in observance of George Washington's birthday. Cherry blossoms and flags in cherry stumps stressed the chosen motif.

Mrs. John Ellinghausen and Mrs. William Gollin were appointed as the next serving committee. Mrs. E. H. Kreidt and Mrs. Ben Lemke were named to the visiting committee. Refreshments of fruit-marshmallow salad, cherry tree cookies and coffee were served. Present were Mesdames Henry Timken, William Gollin, Herbert Meierhoff, Herman Wischnack, John Ellinghausen, Walter Timken, George Bochner, Fred Kamrath, Walter Timme, Arthur Paschall, Ray Meierhoff, George Heinemann, William F. Paulus, Walter Otto, Harold Miegner, Emil Lemke, Gus Kahlen, A. W. Schmid, George Lemke, E. H. Kreidt, Miss Frieda Schauf and Mrs. Gilmore.

ORANGE PERSONALS

Leon Whitsett, member of the state highway commission, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Whitsett here, yesterday.
Irving Goldfeder, formerly one of the Consolidated Orange Growers association office staff, was in the city this week from Riverside. and first member of the executive board, gave a short talk on "The Good of the Order". David Williams of Phillipsburg, Pa., gave a talk on the work being carried on by the Relief corps.

NATIONAL DIRECTOR HEARD AT ORANGE ROTARY MEETING

ORANGE, Feb. 19.—Historians reviewing the World War after a lapse of 20 years are having a difficult task to present sufficient reasons for the cataclysm in which thousands of American boys were killed, declared Fred Coulson, member of the board of directors of Rotary International speaking at the Rotary club yesterday. Frank H. Collins was program chairman and H. D. Nichols presided.

Coulson said that he ventured that not one man present had a clear conception of what the war was about. He declared that he doubted the right to send boys to be exposed to the rigors and dangers of war. Economic reasons and money loaned, were named as causes on which the war was based. Nothing was gained while the economic balance of the world was upset, Coulson declared.

An outline of Rotary activities throughout the 80 countries of the world where clubs are established was given by the speaker. Rotary became international in scope but 15 years ago when the movement began at a convention held at Los Angeles, he pointed out, and it now is an important factor in the establishment of world peace.

Division of the second district, of which Orange is a part, into five districts, was briefly spoken of by Coulson. President Nichols stated that while the club believed that too many divisions were proposed members are to wait for further discussion until the Rotary conference at Hollywood in April.

OLIVE

OLIVE, Feb. 19.—The Hon. Harry L. Howard and his wife of San Antonio, Texas, are the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Martin P. Hamerick of Santa Ana Canyon. Mr. Howard is the presiding judge of the 37th judicial district of Texas and is enroute to La Jolla, Calif., where he plans to get a much needed rest following a severe attack of the flu.

WHAT IS LIBERALISM?

Of late years New Dealers have pre-empted the name "liberal," completely reversing its original meaning. With the threat of legislation materially affecting the Supreme Court, an explanation of what liberalism really is and what it implies seems particularly appropriate.

The word "liberal" developed out of the Latin "liber," meaning "free." "Liberalism" meant to our founding fathers exactly what it said—freedom: freedom of the individual to live his own life without undue interference by the government, freedom to believe as his conscience dictated without compulsion from anybody, equality of all men before the law, equality of economic opportunity (an ideal we have never fully realized), and the general right of all men to improve their lot in life if they had the ability. To this end our Constitution was framed by men who had had experience with highly centralized, illiberal government.

The liberal movement has a long history—far too long to describe in this short account. It includes such diverse elements as the resurrection of the Greek and Latin classics, the Protestant Reformation, a revolution in philosophical thought, the development of science, the industrial revolution, the romantic movement in literature, art, and music, free education of the masses, the growth of widespread humanitarianism, together with the development of laws in keeping with the new spirit. For our present purpose let us consider just one aspect of the early liberal movement.

In pre-horse-and-buggy days, when knighthood was in flower and knights rode horseback while other people walked, England, in common with all the rest of the world, was ruled by an absolute monarchy. King John, the last of these monarchs, unwillingly started political liberalism on its way on June 15, 1215, when, under compulsion, he signed the famous Magna Charta—the Great Charter of which we all studied in school but which most of us promptly forgot.

Before this first faint beginning of English (and also American) liberty, the King had been free to assess the feudal proprietors under his dominion; that is, he could levy any taxes he chose. He could also requisition their aid and the aid of the serfs living on their estates to fight in his behalf whenever he desired. He could send his agents to arrest any of his subjects without warning, and could, without trial or even without proof of guilt, send them to prison, outlaw or banish them, or seize their lands or their possessions. A man's religious beliefs were controlled by the church, and the king had great power in deciding the policy of the church. All these things and more could the absolute monarch do. It was indeed a dictatorship—a rule by man instead of by law. There was no written, widely known and understood body of laws. Men had many duties and no privileges except such as were granted them through the favor of their "betters." All these things and more the Great Charter corrected. It is no wonder that King John signed it unwillingly nor that subsequent kings to the number of thirty-two were required to confirm it. It is now regarded as the basis of the English Constitution.

And it is very largely these same priceless privileges that our Constitution confirms to us. So long as it remains intact it guarantees us against the arbitrary imposition of the will of one man or one group of men. In other words, it guarantees our freedom. It is our great charter of liberties.

As an additional safeguard, our Constitution provides for a division of power between federal and state governments and for a further division of power between three coordinate branches of the Federal Government—the executive, the legislative, and the judiciary. The one thing it forgot to insure against was the corrupting effect of patronage—the spoils system—which makes it possible for the executive branch of the government to reward the cooperative legislators and punish the recalcitrant.

Since the judiciary has no appointive privileges, it has not been open to this method of coercion; but, granted control of Congress, the Executive can procure the power to make sufficient appointments to the judiciary to insure his dominance. It would then be possible for him to change by interpretation, instead of by popular vote, the functions of our erstwhile liberal government. He could gradually introduce more and more collectivist schemes, resurrecting the NPA, the AAA, the Guffey Act, and all the other pseudo-liberal hocus-pocus, and adding to them until we were no longer a liberal representative democracy, but an American edition of Russian Communism or European Fascism.

Before this happens we must somehow get it into our heads that when any form of collectivism comes in at the door, freedom and liberalism fly out at the window. Collectivism, by whatever name it is called—Socialism, Communism, Fascism, Nazism, New Dealism, or mere paternalism—is the antithesis of liberalism. Collectivism cannot be operated without centralized control and compulsion of the unwilling. And you cannot have centralized control and freedom at the same time.

The New Deal is not liberal. It has appropriated a title that does not belong to it. Its object is centralization of power in order to bring about a transfer of wealth from one group of citizens to another. You may believe that this is necessary, but it cannot be done under the banner of liberalism. Liberalism means freedom from governmental interference coupled with individual responsibility.

Do we want to sell our birthright of freedom for a mess of economic potage?

WE WERE WRONG

In an editorial in Tuesday's issue of The Register, we said that President Sproul had asked for an increased grant from the State for the University of 26 per cent. We were completely in error.

We thought we read in the Report what the expenditures were for the biennium 1933-1935, but we did not. It was only a difference in gift between two periods that we read as the total amount. So, of course, our percentages were not based on the right starting point. Dr. Sproul advised at the banquet for the alumni Wednesday night that the increased request was 10 per cent.

It seems to us that the president, in making the report which was intended for an appeal for more funds, should frankly state in his 41-page report what the University received from the State. This would permit the man, who is having the purchasing power of his pay envelope reduced to pay to support the college, and would give him an opportunity to judge whether he desired to continue the present deduction from his pay envelope; and so the farmer could consider, in a like manner, the reduction from the buying-power of his crops. This would clear the way for a possible reduction in the cost of training for those who are capable of taking a college education. From the report, there is no way of telling the percentage of increase or what the total expenditures are or have been.

We do not know what a report should be if it does not include some vital facts so that there can be intelligent conclusions as to whether or not it is a good or bad investment.

With the expense of printing and distributing a book of 41 pages, it would seem that these most vital facts should be included in the report, if it is to be anything else than a pure propaganda sheet to increase the amount of wealth that can be distributed by the University.

HAPPINESS COMES FROM ACCOMPLISHMENT

With the proposed laws to limit the number of hours people dare work (and all production comes from work, present or past), and the social security law that requires people to quit their jobs in order to receive compensation which they have contributed, we cannot help but wonder whether he will not be greatly reducing the happiness of our people.

Some philosopher has remarked that if you seek happiness, it will flee from you. If you seek an opportunity to be of service, happiness will be your constant companion.

Most of us are not able to do much serving to society in the line of stimulating people to think in harmony with natural laws so that about the only opportunity we have to serve is to work and produce something that others want and need. Anything that thus restricts a man from the opportunity of serving humanity, will certainly reduce his happiness. Happiness, in the final analysis comes from accomplishment and accomplishment comes from working and producing things or proper social relations.

STRIKE COST

The dreary task of computing the cost of the General Motors sitdown strike is still going on. Tangible figures are hard to get, because so much of the loss does not reduce readily to dollars and cents; but one of the most conservative estimates puts the cash loss at about $84,000,000, divided equally between workers and stockholders.

Add to that the losses suffered by other companies which had to close down or go on part-time operations because of the stoppage of General Motors orders, and you get a bill that must go well over $100,000,000.

Rather a high price to pay, is it not, for our failure to devise some system of mediation that would have brought strikers and management together at the very start, instead of after two months of struggle?

UNIVERSAL RULE

If wheat farmers are to have their crops insured, why not the orange and vegetable grower or the chicken farmer? Why should any class of producers be protected more than another class? The universal rule is certainly the Golden Rule.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

MAIL BATTLE—

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—When

Mr. John (to be or not to be)

Lewis announced he would swing his support behind President

Roosevelt's extensive judicial New Deal, he did not mean moral support.

Mr. Lewis plays his Hamlet in politics and in labor, not with lace curfs and a rapier, but with a purse of gold and a shillelagh. In fact, his spokesman, Maj. George

L. Berry of labor's so-called non-partisan league, broadly hinted at the weapon they had in mind this time. He said, "Congressmen will be delighted to hear from their people back home and we are not going to deny them the privilege."

What they did not say is that the communications which congressmen have been receiving from

Mr. Lewis' forces out in the country indicate that some organization is vitally necessary.

For instance, one congressman stopped a colleague from an adjoining state in the hall the other day, saying he had received the most unusual mandate from a constituent in all his experience. It came from a mine worker local.

The colleague had received exactly the same wire from a local in his state. Both wires read simply:

"We expect you to be for whatever the president is for."

POSTAGE—

What Mr. Lewis can do in a postage way, if he sets his mind to it, is indicated by a private check-up recently made of campaign expenditures reports on file with the clerk of the house.

Various United Mine Worker contributions have been published from time to time, but totals have varied. So many contributions and loans were made at separate times to various organizations that no one has been sure of an exact total.

While this one may yet be inadequate, it indicates clearly that

Mr. Lewis is not parsimonious in politics, as he was at least able to furnish the following sums in 1936:

To the Democratic national committee, $419,648.91.

To the Pennsylvania state committee, $40,000.

To two congressional districts in Pennsylvania, $10,000.

Total, $469,648.91.

It indicates, also, that Mr. Lewis need not go to the expense of sending additional letters to those two congressmen from Pennsylvania in whose election he spent $10,000.

FRIGHT-FLURRY—

The Lewis-Berry postal attack on congress appears to be needed by the organizers of the president's fight. The real thing which stopped his program cold and delayed consideration was the onslaught of critical communications to congressmen from their folks back home. His normally loyal supporters in congress were frightened.

Most of the estimates on mail are being given out by opposition congressmen. They may or may not be exaggerating, but their assertions indicate that their mail, unlike Mrs. Roosevelt's, is nowhere near even.

Republican Representative Millard, Tarrytown, N. Y., told the house he had received between 1800 and 2000 telegrams, letters and petitions, but only one in favor. Republican Senator Capper's mail, which is reported to be the largest in congress, is reported 95 per cent against.

Democratic Senator Burke, Nebraska, 95 per cent against. Senator Herring, Iowa, 90 per cent against. Herring is the only one favorable to the president's plan.

SECRETARIAL WORK—

During the utilities and bonus fights, congress received hundreds of thousands of communications, but most of these were obviously organized. Some of the utilities and bonus people were supposed to have written the letters themselves before going out on the highways and byways and soliciting signatures, in some cases signing the names themselves and paying the postage.

The first batches of incoming mail this time were obviously not the result of skillful organization, but much of the deluge poured from pens of lawyers and others acquainted with the subject.

The president's friends believe their deficiency in mail support was due to the fact that the issue was not understood by the average man in the street. They trust that, after a period of systematized campaign work and organization, they can bring in mail to congressional desks which will give congress justification for supporting the proposal.

This is the whole fight now.

SKILL—

It seemed significant that Mr. Roosevelt announced his new commissioner to the Philippines just as Philippine Military Adviser General MacArthur and Philippine President Manuel Quezon were on their way to Washington, for a conference. It was.

Those who should know, say Mr. Roosevelt hastened the matter before his cabinet and obtained its unanimous approval to the selection of Indiana's political leader, Paul V. McNutt. At first, the president considered sending Assistant Secretary of State Frances Sayre, but State Secretary Hull protested Sayre could not be spared from his economic work in the department.

McNutt then was given only 24 hours to make up his mind. The president's main idea, they say, was to act before the Philippine representatives arrived on the scene, thus avoiding any impression that they had a hand in the choice.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

THE OVER-PROTECTED CHILD

"No you don't want to go out to play with those rough children. They would hurt you. Mother will play with you."

"You'd better not try to cut that yourself. Bring it to me. It would be dreadful if my little boy cut himself."

"I'll take you to school every day, so you need not be afraid. The boys might fight you, or you might get run over. And you never know what kind of people are on the street. Remember, sonny, don't ever answer a stranger if he speaks to you. Run right home."

Such, and many more, are the daily utterances of mothers who have one only child and are afraid that life will hurt him. Their fear makes them bind the child with fetters that will hold him all his days, make him a frightened runaway instead of a valiant fighter.

Life will hurt a child. It always does. The price of wisdom is pain, but a pain that is endurable, scarcely felt, in the triumph of mastery.

It is not possible to shield a child from the shocks and bruises of the world. They are certain to come. The child who has been shielded and protected from them in the safety of his home must go out among his fellows some day. What is he to do when they gather around him to see what sort of person he is? If he cannot stand up and look them in the eyes and say, "Hullo, yourself," he is going to be pushed against the nearest wall, cuffed and shoved until he is rescued and isolated once more. He will have to suffer daily until he learns to adjust himself to the other children, to their ways and their wills. Better to have helped him to make those adjustments while he was a beginner. Six years is a long span of life, and much has gone on in the making of a child during that time, much that will stay with him a long, long time.

No man can live alone. That goes against nature, and nature is not gainsaid. As soon as a child asks to play with another child let him go to it. If he is pushed down hard on his seat—and he is likely to be—don't rush to him in an agony of distress and pick him up to comfort him. Smile at him and let him struggle up himself. The sooner he gets that idea the better for him.

Children push each other about a lot. They are rough in their play and exchange blows on occasions. Separate them firmly, and when they cool off, forget it and let them start again. Their fighting must be discouraged, but, as long as they do not strike each other with weapons, don't forbid them to play together. Sometimes we have to separate them for a longer time, maybe half a day, or a whole day, to teach them what loneliness is, but complete isolation is not the answer unless one of them is mentally defective. The healthy child will learn to hold his own, learn to adjust himself to other children, play well with them, without coming to harm.

Education is a process that teaches men to live peacefully with each other, to work harmoniously, cooperate cheerfully. That education begins with the two-year-olds and continues down to old age. The beginning is highly important. (Copyright, 1937, The Bell Syn. Inc.)

It Seems to Me
by
HEYWOOD BROWN

There can be no doubt that the most dangerous opposition which has been mustered against Roosevelt's drive to liberalize the courts comes from the Progressive bloc. What Carter Glass says doesn't count very much, but the words of Wheeler really hurt. And it is my guess that the president can hardly win unless he can induce Senator Norris to come out vigorously for his proposals.

No one can doubt the courage and sincerity of Wheeler and Norris, and both men have been around Washington long enough to learn wisdom about political strategy, but I fail to see how any pathway for an amendment can be cleared by first defeating the president's plan. The die is cast now and a defeat for the administration or even a deep compromise will mean that politicians will shut the problem of the Constitution and the courts for a good many years to come.

The result will be taken to mean that the statute quo is too well entrenched to be tackled. And saying very people who are now saying that, of course, Mr. Roosevelt has every right to propose an amendment will turn with fury on anything he suggests. The reactionaries have been without raw meat for some time, but just let them get a whiff of blood and there will be no holding them. It is curious to find Wheeler allying himself with this pack on this particular point, and still more strange to see Norris casting sheep's eyes at the wolves.

Norris Cold to Amendment Plan

The position of the gentleman from Nebraska would be stronger if he had been carrying on any particularly vigorous campaign for an amendment during the last year. I know that a small committee went to him early in 1936 to ask him to call a conference of farm leaders, labor leaders, and liberals in the house and senate to discuss the possibility of framing some amendment on which those forces could agree. I was there. Senator Norris threw cold water on the plan. He wasn't sure an amendment was the right measure, and he felt that he was too busy with other things to take on the responsibility.

A number of other men, notably Senator La Follette, were willing and eager to get going, but they all agreed that Norris was the natural leader for the movement, and they waited a word from him. None came until more than twelve months had passed. It being said by some commentators that the president, with his prestige, could swing an amendment through in a year's time, and the speedy passage of repeal is mentioned. But there is no clear analogy. Repeal was an amendment to end an amendment, and its form was perfectly simple.

There are more than forty amendments hung up in the congress already. Hung up to rot and dry, if you like. It is probable that a very large majority of the people of America and their representatives will agree that congress should have the power to legislate in regard to the problems of agriculture and labor. But that agreement breaks into tiny pieces when there is a discussion of the method. One of the favorite devices is to restate "the general welfare" clause.

I have seen several attempts to this in particular the "Garrison amendment," but I hold that it is almost impossible to set down anything which may not be construed, conservatively or liberally, according to the complexion of the court. If it were possible to hold a constitutional convention and to over the entire document I would be for that. I remember Frank Cobb wrote many editorials advocating such a procedure. That was more than ten years ago—the practical possibility of such a procedure is just as remote now as it was then.

The Madison amendment, by which a supreme court veto can be nullified by a two-thirds vote of both houses, is a good one, but obviously commands no great popular support. It has been knocking around for a long time without attracting attention. It has been explained painstakingly that Mr. Roosevelt weighed many suggestions before he announced his present plan.

If it is adopted many constitutional problems will remain unsolved. But it would serve as a beginning in breaking down a stiff resistance. Nobody can hit a ball as far with a niblick as with a driver or a brassie. The best that can be said for the president's plan is that it is designed to get us back on the fairway. There's no point in telling him to shoot for the green. Look at the spot where the ball lies. It's right in the print of somebody's heel. It probably has been stepped on. There must be an explosion shot. The cause of progressivism is bunkered.

Little Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE

Pop was starting to go to his office this morning, and he saw my shoes, saying, "What am I going to do to teach you the moral, practical and spiritual value of keeping your shoes brushed? Have you any idea when you brushed them last?" he said.

Well, I remember the time, but not the date, I said, and pop said, "It was an historical occasion, at all events. If you ever had a really lustreous polish on your shoes it must inspire you and make you polish-conscious, so supposing you go around to the barber shop after school and have Tony the bootblack shine your shoes. Tony's a master craftsman and he'll give you a model shine that will provide you with something to aim at for years. Tell the barber I said to put the shine on my bill, pop said.

Well G, pop, gosh, suppose some of the fellows see me sitting up there leaving a big strong man shine my shoes, they're liable to call me a sissel, I said, and pop said, "It seems to be true that the time is rapidly approaching when labor will have achieved such dignity that it will be a social error not to do all your own work, but that era has not quite arrived, so don't worry."

Yes sir, but anyways, pop, Tony charges 10 cents and I'd be glad to do it myself for 5 cents and save you 50 per cent, I said. G, pop, I'll bet then so long and hard I bet you'll think Tony did them after all when you come home and see them, I said, and pop said, "You're unmasked yourself, young fellow, you're a rugged individualist of the most unsocial type, and I spurn your braze compromise. If I return this evening and find a self-inflicted shine of the heroic proportions you mention, it will be time enough to discuss money matters, he said.
